VISIT OF PREMIER SEEN AS CHANGING HISTORY'S COURSE

Washington Leaders, Amazed at Success of Britain's Efforts, Acclaim Mission as Milestone in Progress.

4 POWERS INVITED TO NAVAL PARLEY

British Foreign Office
Asks U. S., Japan, France and Italy To Discuss Further Navy Reduction.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER,
United News Staff Correspondent.

Washington, October 7.—Events of tremendous significance to the peace of the world marked Prime Minister MacDonald's mission of 'friendship with the United States today.

Tonight as he went to sleep in the White House, in the great nine-foot Lincoln bed used by Abraham Lincoln, all here competent to judge were convinced the last 24 hours had been one of the most vital in the history of world peace.

Enough has transpired to convince Washington that the mission of Macdonald—regarded in high circles here as one of the most daring undertakings since Woodrow Wilson's trip to the Paris peace conference—has already chalked up a success destined to become a milestone in world history.

Events today included:

New Naval Parley.
Issuance at the British foreign office of invitations to the United States, Japan, France and Italy to attend a conference at London next January at which an effort will be made to restrict all auxiliary types of warships and to further restrict battleship fleets.

A joint statement by President Hoover and Prime Minister MacDonald that they were frankly dissatisfied with gratifying progress all questions which might cause friction between the two peoples. This was taken to mean the freedom of the seas also was discussed.

An address by MacDonald to the United States senate declaring that England and the United States are girding for peace and promising parity
"without reserve, heaped up and overflowing."

These developments, all converging upon the crucial question of whether the two great English speaking peoples are to go forward as friends or as jealous potential enemies, inspired Washington with an outlook of harmony the like of which has not been felt here in nearly a decade.

Changing History.
MacDonald, with his sincerity and conspicuous devotion to the ideas of peace, has proved a messenger of goodwill on behalf of Britain who may prove to have changed the course of history by his venture across the Atlantic.

The earnest discussions which have been stripped down to bare, raw elements, talked out on the old mountain camp, were dressed off tonight by the brilliance of the great state dinner given at the White House by President and Mrs. Hoover.

There, over the shimmering gold plate, with the shimmering beauty of exquisitely gowned ladies, amid hospitality, laughter and good fellowship, was sealed the peace of the two great powers of the world.

Leaving the Rapidan mountain camp after an early breakfast, the president's party returned to Washington about 10:30. At noon the prime minister and Miss Isabel Macdonald, with the British ambassador and Lady Isabella Howard, went to the capitol.

Received in House.
The prime minister was received on the floor of the house. He spoke briefly saying his presence in the American legislative hall reminded him again of how alike the democratic institutions of Great Britain and the United States were and "how much alike we are."

After receiving the members individually, the prime minister went through the long corridor to the senate chamber. Being introduced by Vice-President Curtis, the prime minister made a more extended address, falling into his easy parliamentary attitude, sticking one thumb in the armhole of his waistcoat and addressing the senators as "my friends."

Miss Isabel, in a bright red hat, sat in the gallery watching the scene with rapt interest.

He reiterated there is to be no alliance and reaffirmed his recent pledge to have no military or naval armaments.

ACTION DEFERRED ON CITY HALL SALE

Committee To Receive Sealed Bids and Make Recommendations at Council Meeting Thursday.

Declining to accept any bid for lease or sale of the present site of the Atlanta city hall at Marietta and Porsyth streets, members of the special city hall and buildings and grounds committees of city council Monday afternoon asked council to permit them to receive sealed bids until noon Thursday and to bring in a recommendation to a special meeting of council slated for 3 o'clock that afternoon.

Palmer, Inc., represented by the Adams-Cates Realty Company, submitted an amended bid for the site which was $3,600 more than a bid offered by the Carling Hotels Company, Inc., for the 65-year lease of the tract. The Palmer bid is the best received thus far and would give the city $3,225,000 net for the 65-year lease, while the Carling proposal allowed $3,225,000 for a lease of the same duration.

Special Session Sought.
Mayor I. N. Ragsdale will be asked to call a special meeting of council for 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, following a meeting of the joint committees slated for 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Many council members will insist that the tract be leased or sold to the best bidder at the Thursday afternoon session, although there is much opposition to a sale of the property.

Anticipating the Thursday afternoon session, council Monday adjourned without completing its business and many committees are to report at the deferred meeting.

In presenting the revised bid of Palmer, Inc., representatives of Adams-Cates announced for the first time that a large hotel, costing from $2,500,000 to $3,000,000 will be erected on the site if the Palmer interests are the successful bidders.

It would be owned by Baker Hotels, a large Texas syndicate.

Revised Palmer Figures.

Revised figures of the Palmer Company call for payment of $3,225,000 to the city for a 65-year lease, out of which a $264,400 real estate commission would be paid. A certified check for $50,000 would be filed immediately and be dissipated by investing $10,000 each year as rentals on the property.

All those who make bids subject to the opening of bids Thursday afternoon are to file a financial statement and $50,000 certified checks each for performance of contracts.

Rentals offered under the revised Palmer offer are $38,000 a year for the first 10 years, $45,000 a year, $50,000 a year, fourth 10 years, $50,000 a year, fifth 10 years $55,000 a year, and last 15 years, $65,000 a year.

In a letter to the council and in a statement, Bass said he resigned, as requested by the council, because he saw no likelihood of being able to work in harmony with the seven members who voted for his suspension last Friday.

Chicago Seethes With Baseball Fever as Classic Series of Year Looms at Wrigley Field.

BY FRANK GETTY,
United News Sports Editor.

Chicago, October 7.—World series rivals once more after 19 years, the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Athletics rested tonight on the eve of the opening battle, while all around them a city seethed with excitement over this climax of the 1929 baseball season.

As evenly matched as contenders in the series ever have been, each club ready to put its full strength on the field, there was little to choose between the champions of the respective major league circuits.

The Cubs should win, but their margin of victory probably will be slight. There seems little likelihood of another of those awe-inspiring, four consecutive game triumphs such as the American league representatives, the New York Yankees, have scored in the past two seasons.

Root vs. Grove.
It will be Charley Root, leading National league pitcher, against "Lefty" Grove, leading American league pitcher, in the opening game, which will be witnessed by more than 50,000 fans at Wrigley park Tuesday afternoon.

Joe McCarthy, whose leadership brought the Cubs to a well-merited triumph in the senior circuit, made Root's selection as his opening hurler official in a statement to the United News. Connie Mack, back at the helm of a world series contender after 15 years of disappointment, has decided not to make his selection official until 5 minutes before game time, which is 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, but it is known that the veteran manager will choose the mighty Grove, who won 20 games and lost but 6 during the American league season.

Each team will have its regulars in action, with replacements in readiness. There will be no opportunity for alibis from either camp. Seldom has a world series opened under such favorable auspices and with such promise of a hard fight from the first pitch to the last out.

Cheerful Weather.
The weather, always variable on the shores of Lake Michigan at this time of year, is fitting right into this cheerful picture. Fair and warmer is the forecast for the day of the first game.

Here is how the rivals will line-up Tuesday:

Athletics	Cubs
Bishop, 2b	McMillan, 3b
Haas, cf	English, ss
Cochrane, c	Hornsby, 2b
Simmons, lf	Wilson, cf
Fox, 1b	Cuyler, rf
Miller, rf	Stephenson, lf
Dykes, 3b	Grimm, 1b
Boley, ss	Taylor, c
Grove, p	Root, p

Umpires—Klem, Moran, Dineen and Van Graft.

The foregoing line-up presents the National leaguers as somewhat stronger offensively, fighting by the presence of veterans, standing before an intense and volatile home town crowd.
The Cubs should win the opener,
and eventually the series.

MANAGER RESIGNS TO END QUARRELS WITH CITY COUNCIL

Knoxville, Tenn., October 7.—(AP) Foregoing the legal privilege of a public hearing, C. Neil Bass, suspended city manager, tendered his resignation to the city council today.

In a letter to the council and in a statement, Bass said he resigned, as
saw no likelihood of being able to work in harmony with the seven members who voted for his suspension last Friday.

Bass accused Mayor James A. Trent of "duplicitous" asserting Trent, several hours before the meeting, advised him not to resign and, at the council session, voted against him.

In a counter statement, Trent said the conversation had occurred, but at the time he had no knowledge of the "defiant public statement" Bass had announced. Bass had announced he would not resign, Trent said. Trent said to have referred to this state-

FOUR STUDENTS ADMIT BURNING GEORGIA SCHOOL

Freshmen, Held in Jail at Marietta, Assert Blaze at Dormitory Was "Just a Prank."

Powder Springs, Ga., October 7.— (Special).—Four students of the Seventh District Agricultural and Mechanical college are in the Cobb county jail at Marietta, charged with arson in connection with a fire in the boys' dormitory of the school last night.

The boys are Dan Coker, Ralph Watford, B. T. Rainey and Briscoe Leard.

According to officials of the school the boys admitted having set fire to the dormitory alleging that they did it just "for fun."

Loss Is Insured.
The flames were discovered shortly after the boys had fired the dormitory and were extinguished by other students and the Powder Springs fire department. The damage was estimated at $1,500. It is covered by insurance.

Sheriff's deputies and members of the prosecutor's staff visited the school today, obtaining depositions and names of witnesses. The case will be presented to the grand jury later in the week.

All of the boys are 17 years of age and are spending their first year at the school.
Dr. Claude Gray, principal of the college, obtained confessions from the boys Sunday night less than two hours after the fire broke out. Immediately after the flames were discovered he began an investigation, interviewing some of the older members of the student body. It was from these students that he obtained information indicating that the four freshmen were guilty. He summoned the suspected boys to his office and after brief questioning obtained confessions from them.

Three Boys From Georgia.
Dr. Gray immediately notified the sheriff at Marietta and deputies were sent here to remove the boys to jail.
At Marietta today it was said the boys probably would be admitted to bond as soon as the sheriff's office had completed its investigation.

School officials refused to give the home addresses of the four boys but did say that all of them with the exception of Coker lived in north Geo-gia. Coker was said to be from South Carolina.

Miss Pringle was forced to parade before the jurors in the scarlet ensemble she wore at the time of an alleged attack by the theatrical magnate in his private office.

The defense conducted a searching examination of her life since last March and to August 9, the day on which she claims Mr. Pantages attacked her.
The defense forced an admission from her that she attended several parties with Nick Dunaway, from whom she bought the dance act she was attempting to sell to Pantages at the time of the alleged assault, and remained out until late hours.

At one time she admitted Dunaway had driven her to a hotel following a party and that she had gone home that night. She slipped in an explanation and later amplified it in the presence of other persons and never remained at the apartment throughout the night. The state brought out that Dunaway at the time was engaged to a girl, Lela May Keller, who on most every social occasion was present.

Mr. Winslow also was a director of the Atlanta & Lowry National Bank and the Trust Company of Georgia.
Mr. Winslow had been in the cotton ginning field throughout his business life, having started his career with the old Winslow Machine Company, of which his grandfather and father, successively, had been president. Working his way up through all departments of the organization, Mr. Winslow was president when the company, through a succession of mergers, became the Continental Gin Company, about 29 years ago. In the capacity of vice president, he served

Accuser of Pantages Unshaken as Defense Lawyers Attack Story

Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer, snapped on the witness stand at Los Angeles as she testified in the trial of Alexander Pantages, millionaire vaudeville king, on charges of criminal attack. Miss Pringle asserted she was attacked by Pantages when she entered his offices to seek a booking for her dancing act. Defense attorneys plan to attack her statements as to what actually took place in the "little room."

Miss Pringle Questioned Concerning Relations With Los Angeles Play- wright.

Los Angeles, October 7.—(AP)—
Three hours of defense and prosecution examination of Miss Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer and university student, came to an end late today and the girl was dismissed from the witness stand, ending the appearance of the state's principal witness in the trial of a statutory charge against Alexander Pantages.

Miss Pringle was forced to par-

City council and the aldermanic

PLOT TO 'OBSTRUCT JUSTICE IN COURT' CHARGED BY HAGER

Statement Made at Hearing of Dr. H. D. Allen, Who Had Refused To Answer Jury's Questions.

PHYSICIAN CITED IN CONTEMPT CASE

Manley's Doctor Gives Jury Information Desired After Being Ordered by Judge.

Charges of conspiracy to prevent the trial of W. D. Manley, former president of the defunct Bankers' Trust Company, by procuring continuances upon false testimony, were aired before Federal Judge Samuel H. Sil-bey by United States District Attorney Clint W. Hager, at the opening of the October term of federal court here Monday.

In announcing what he termed was "an attempt to obstruct justice in court," Hager declared that a thorough investigation has been ordered and indictments may be expected.

Hager made his statement at a hearing of Dr. H. D. Allen, of Milledgeville, Manley's physician, who was cited for contempt of court by Judge Silbey upon refusal to answer questions propounded to him before the grand jury at its morning session.
The prosecution was upheld and the grand jury reconvened at 4 o'clock to question the physician, who then replied to the district attorney's questions, it was learned.

Federal authorities told the court that Dr. Allen had been served with a subpoena directing him to produce a list of all employees and patients at his sanitarium in Milledgeville, also showing the names of other patients quartered in the building with Manley. In addition he was asked to state the mental and physical condition of the former banker.

The physician told Judge Silbey that to answer the district attorney's questions might disclose the defense plans of Manley's attorneys. Judge Silbey, however, held that the questions were proper and that the jury was entitled to hear them answered.

Dr. Allen appeared before the grand jury at its morning session and was brought before Judge Silbey shortly after noon. When asked by the court why he had refused to answer Attorney Hager, he requested that he first be permitted to confer with his attorneys, and was given until 3:30 o'clock.

At the hearing, Attorney Marion Smith, counsel for Dr. Allen, declared that he contested the right of the grand jury to demand the information desired by Attorney Hager, but that

Out of the Ashes Rose Atlanta

--and out of an ideal grew the ROGERS STORES

Our Warehouse

The modern and efficient warehouse you see here was not necessary a few decades ago. But serving thousands upon thousands entails responsibilities. Here the buying is done by experienced men who test carefully every article before it is offered for sale. No liberties are taken with our guarantee.

Here, too, men plan how to make the stores more attractive, how service may be improved, with a fleet of forty trucks rushing constantly to supply needs to the housewives.

The large, modern addition to our bakery, just about completed, but not shown in the picture above, which is to be the future home of Poncey bread, as well as many other good bakery products, has relieved housewives of a great burden. For in this bakery we are producing bread of unusual quality, baked under the most sanitary conditions, made of finest ingredients, and sold at a fair price.

SIXTY-FIVE years ago Atlanta was a heap of ashes. But this city—this section—harbored sturdy citizens, and their indomitable spirit could not be dampened. With wasted fields, destroyed trade, and with money worthless, they began the reconstruction of their homes.

Atlanta was destined for greatness. The hardships undergone by her people had not dampened their faith and their zeal; and they labored on in the fulfillment of an ideal.

Atlanta grew and prospered. Today it is a great industrial and commercial center, a monument to industry, peopled with practically 300,000 souls, proud of their city.

Growth and progress are not accidental. Atlanta—this magical city of the South—is the result of its strategic location, the natural distribution point of the South, and the initiative of its citizens, who have worked diligently in attracting new industries and sustaining those already established.

Rogers, Inc., is proud of the fact that it has at all times given support to those matters deemed important for the growth and development of the City, the State, the South.

In thirty-seven years, Rogers, Inc., has grown from one store to one of the great organizations of the South—operating 400 pure food stores in Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina, and 180 modern markets.

It has not been a mushroom growth with Rogers, Inc., but one dependent on the support of Atlanta citizens, where our first store was started, as well as upon the citizens of adjoining states, where we have been kindly received.

Rogers, Inc., has consistently and permanently developed because it adhered to the high ideals and policies created in the beginning of its operations, and has consistently rendered absolute satisfaction by dispensing quality foods at nominal prices.

How closely the Rogers stores are allied with the growth of Atlanta—Georgia—and other Southern States—is evidenced by the following facts, not given in a spirit of boastfulness, but to show clearly that this business is an integral part of the South and of vital importance to producers and manufacturers throughout this section:

We employ more than twelve hundred satisfied workers, earning more than a million dollars a year.

Our annual contributions to boards of trade and other civic or patriotic causes will reach fifty thousand dollars.

Atlanta rentals are nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars annually, while our stores outside of this city equal this amount.

Georgia garden truck to the value of between one hundred and fifty and a hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars is sold annually through our stores.

More than a hundred thousand dollars annually is paid to Georgia Dairymen for sweet milk.

More than one hundred cars of Georgia sweet potatoes are purchased each year.

Apples, eggs, watermelons, peaches, peanut butter and other products raised or produced in the state receive from us almost three-quarters of a million dollars annually.

Satisfactory Service to Housewives

The four hundred Rogers stores, one hundred and ninety meat markets and Nifty Jiffy stores render satisfying service to housewives. The sanitary stores, managed by capable and courteous men who know that our growth means advancement for them, the quality of the foods, each one tested and inspected by experienced buyers before being offered for sale, mean absolute satisfaction with every purchase. Low prices merely show the advantage of volume buying and passing our savings on to the consumer.

"The South's Own Grocery Chain"

We are proud of our stores and our personnel, composed largely of Georgia—Southern—men. We want you to feel proud of the Rogers organization as an integral part of Atlanta—and the South.

Suit for $25,000 damages for injuries received in an automobile accident on August 28 was filed Monday in Fulton superior court by Mrs. T. O. Cain against Clarence and Willis Rutherford and the Adamson-Coster Company. Mrs. Cain alleges that a sedan driven by Clarence Rutherford and owned by Willis Rutherford ran into a parked automobile in which she was sitting, and caused her to be injured seriously. The sedan was driven into the parked car in order to avoid striking an Adamson-Coster truck which darted out of Colquitt street into Highland avenue, the plaintiff alleges. The suit was filed by Attorney Carl F. Hatcheson.

Famous Indian Chief Here

Chief Mad Wolf, Cheyenne Indian, who is driving a Pontiac roadster around the world, will be in Atlanta with his car all this week. He is here as the guest of F. E. Maffett, Inc., Oakland and Pontiac distributors.

Chief Mad Wolf is here in the interest of the Oakland Motor Car Company, in conjunction with the special sale of Oakland All-American six automobiles that starts today in the display rooms of the F. E. Maffett, Inc. He is a picturesque Indian and has played in many movies. He played parts in "The Covered Wagon," "Iron Horse," "Thundering Herd," "North of 36," "Brave Heart" and "White Saddle." He dropped the position with the pictures to make the world trip. Leaving New York city January 7 for London, he traveled through central Europe, into Africa and across a corner of the Sahara desert. Turning north, he crossed into Asia and hit the Pacific coast in China. Some of the trip was made by river boat and rail where there were no roads. When he arrived in Atlanta, Monday morning his speedometer registered close to 30,000 miles, and he has about 10,000 more to cover before calling it a day's work at the finish in Pontiac.

He will be found every night this week until 9 o'clock in the showrooms of the Maffett Company. He will talk on Indian customs, the first part of the week, and give Indian fortune readings Thursday, Friday and Saturday. He starts through F. E. Maffett, president of the company, that he will welcome an opportunity to give Atlantans this unique reading and cordially invites all.

COURT REVERSES SELF IN ALIMONY LIEN CASE

Judgment Creditor Is Given First Consideration in Court Ruling.

The Georgia supreme court, reversing its own former decision in the same case, Monday held that a judgment for alimony given a wife does not constitute a lien against the husband's property as against the claim of a judgment creditor.

The decision was in the case of the Chero-Cola Company vs. J. C. May et al., at Augusta. The company sought enforcement of a judgment against May. His former wife, Mrs. Martha May, intervened, claiming a decree of alimony gave her a lien on her former husband's property.

"A judgment for permanent alimony in stated monthly installments and not for a fixed gross sum, does not create a lien for the monthly installments not due, when a creditor acquires a lien upon the husband's property which he then owns or may afterwards acquire, superior to the liens which he may subsequently create on such property in favor of other creditors, where no lien is expressly created upon the property in the judgment for alimony," the court stated.

With reference to its reversal from its former position in the case, the court stated that the real principle was one of such importance that the court gave the controlling question presented by the record further careful consideration and reached a different conclusion from that announced in the first opinion.

A dissenting view in the first opinion was presented by Justice Gilbert and Justice Atkinson. Chief Justice Richard B. Russell and Justice H. Warner Hill dissented from the new ruling.

RUM TRANSPORTERS SCORED IN ADDRESS BY JUDGE SIBLEY

Transportation as the base of whiskey evil was scored by Judge Samuel H. Sibley Monday in his charge to the grand jury at the opening of the latter term of the United States court.

"Prohibition, like all other restrictive laws," Judge Sibley said, "cannot be rigidly enforced because there are bound to be sporadic outbreaks, regardless of the diligence of all law enforcement agencies."

"If the big liquor operators are to be brought to justice," he added, "that is those operating under the safeguard of money, organization and power, it will go a long way towards bringing about some semblance of law observance."

Judge Sibley then pointed out that if the transporter is dealt with stringently, the connection between the manufacturer, or wholesaler and retailers and consumers can be broken off.

Thirty-one liquor cases were disposed of by Judge Sibley at the morning session of court. All entered pleas of guilty and were assessed fines ranging from $10 to $100.

And jury indictments are expected to be returned today.

Harry Van Straaten Becomes Associated With Eiseman's Store

Morris D. Eiseman, president of Eiseman's, one of the oldest and best-known clothing firms in Atlanta, announces that Harry Van Straaten has become associated with the store in a general executive capacity. Mr. Van Straaten has had 12 years' experience in this business with the Charles Stern Company at Athens, where he enjoyed a wide popularity among both the citizenry and students at the university. This addition to the store's personnel, following the expansion of its facilities last spring when two new directors, R. Earl Stanford, manager of the men's clothing department, and J. Paul Lewis, manager of the furnishing goods department, were elected, it is felt by members of the firm, places the establishment in a better position than ever to serve its friends throughout the state.

FIRE RAZES GARAGE Loss in Blaze at Ringgold Is Set at $18,000.

Ringgold, Ga., October 7.—(AP)—Fire believed to have been caused by a defect in the wiring of an auto battery today destroyed the garage of Guy C. Richardson here containing 7 new cars and 13 used machines. The loss was estimated at $18,000. The adjoining garage of J. P. Dedmon suffered some damage, but was saved from destruction by the efforts of a "bucket brigade." According to a theory held by Lee Patterson, nightwatchman, who discovered the fire, a short circuit in a car battery placed its starter in operation and made a noise which he investigated.

METCALF'S NEW STORE

Cor. Mitchell & Forsyth Sts. IS A WINNER What Metcalf Says Is So

We Thank You! We Thank You!—for your patronage Saturday and Monday. I am already convinced that my new neighbors and friends in the Terminal section believe "What Metcalf Says Is So!" And you know, folks, I been sellin' men's clothing for thirty odd years. Fact is, I don't know nothin' else. Everybody who knows Metcalf knows I got my livin' made long ago. A big part of my pay is to see the smiles on your face when you get good all-wool men's suits and topcoats from Metcalf for

Not only the men of Atlanta but all over the country, for some reason or 'nother the Jack is runnin' a little low just now for the most of us. I realize that you will come many miles to the Metcalf Stores for your fall and winter clothing where you can save 'bout half by paying cash.

Men of Atlanta, listen to my shirt story. You better listen, 'cause it MEANS a lot to you. I found a first-class shirt manufacturer in "a tight." He'd sold all his cheaper grades and was tryin' to close out his $24 goods for $16.50. I finally offered him a ridiculously low price, and when I showed him my "dead men's pictures," he said, "old top, we've traded."

There are exactly 600 of these shirts—all sizes but mostly 14½, 15, 15½, all sleeve lengths. They are beautiful broadcloth shirts, silk stripes, and they'll actually make you look like a million dollars. The price is not $2.50, and neither is it $2.00, but I'm goin' to give you these 600 shirts for

Not more than three shirts to a customer. Mr. Real Estate Man, Mr. Office Man, in every office building in Atlanta, I am appealing to you to come to Metcalf's to look at these $2.50 shirts for one dollar and fifteen cents. Buy one, wear it a week and if you'd rather have your Jack, I'll give you your $1.15 back.

Atlanta University Shows Good Progress Under New System

Gratifying progress in the development in this city of a university system for negroes was reported at the recent meeting of the trustees of the new Atlanta university, formed last spring by the affiliation of the old Atlanta university, Morehouse college and Spelman college. The report of Dr. John Hope, president of the affiliated institution and of Morehouse college, revealed the fact that a large number of senior and graduate courses now are being given in the several institutions by teachers holding advanced degrees, and that it will be necessary for the present to add to the teaching staff in order to put the institution on a graduate basis.

The members of the board present were: Chairman, Dean Sage, distinguished lawyer and philanthropist of New York city; president John Hope, Miss Florence M. Read, president of Spelman college; Kendall Weisger, assistant to the president of the Southern Bell Telephone Company; Dr. W. W. Alexander, director of the commission on inter-racial co-operation, and Dr. James M. Nabrit, pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist church of this city. The other members of the board are William Travers Jerome, Jr., and James Weldon Johnson, of New York, and Mrs. George Coleman, of Boston.

Keely's Anniversary Sale, First in Sixty-Two Years Of Business, Has Big Start

Principles Established by Founder of Store in 1868 Mark Policies of Present Management.

Keely's anniversary sale, the first to be held by the company since the establishment of its store 62 years ago at Whitehall and Hunter streets, started Monday under auspicious circumstances, the day's business having been one of the largest ever enjoyed by the store.

The establishment was started in 1868 by Captain John Keely, in a small store 27 by 60 feet, in a building constructed from the bricks left in the path. Sherman burned through Georgia.

Tradition has it that the property on which the building stands was purchased immediately after the war by John M. Gannon, who was Captain Keely's predecessor, for $450 in gold, and it is said that the ground is now valued at $13,000 a front foot. Captain Keely was the embodiment of the spirit and energy of the new south, in the words of R. E. O'Donnell, who was in his employ and is now a member of the firm, and his pleasant manner, his genial disposition, his business ability and his never-failing tact soon placed him in the forefront of Atlanta merchants. Enlargement of the quarters was made necessary by increasing business.

Some interesting observations by Mr. O'Donnell on conditions at the time are:

Atlanta had a population of 20,000. There were no telephones or electric lights, no street cars, no highways. The Southern Railway had not been projected.

The Atlanta Constitution, now nationally known as a leading exponent of southern thought and sentiment, had only recently started publication. Whitehall street was a sea of mud—all vehicular traffic was horse-drawn.

James E. Williams was mayor, and Rufus B. Bulloch was governor. Captain Keely died in 1888 and a partnership was formed by F. S. Ellis, Mr. O'Donnell, and John Morris to continue the business. Mr. Ellis was then associated with Jaffrey & Company, of New York, and Mr.

Jaffrey, who was a friend of Captain Keely's, sent him here to organize a firm to operate the store. Mr. O'Donnell had been employed at the store and Mr. Morris had been associated with M. Rich & Company.

These three men, associated in a partnership called the Keely Company, continued the business in the same location unbroken until 1927. At that time Mr. Ellis retired from the firm, selling his interest to the other partners. Mr. Ellis has since died.

The membership of the original firm was augmented 10 years ago by the admission of John Morris, Jr., and he, with his father and Mr. O'Donnell, compose its present membership. It is a simple partnership and has been so since its succession to the business of John Keely.

The policy of the firm throughout its entire life has been fundamentally based on the business policies of John Keely. From time to time modern developments have brought in new features, however, not known at the time of the establishment of Keely Company.

Although conservative in policy, the firm has kept abreast with the leaders in the march of mercantile improvements. This being the first anniversary sale emphasizes the management's adherence to the fundamental principles outlined by its founder: Style, quality, courtesy and value.

Ferguson returned to see his son, Joe, who has been partly paralyzed as a result of an altercation several weeks ago when he was stabbed. Ferguson was recognized and arrested and charged with the killing of William J. Andrews, of St. Clair county, on May 12, 1909.

Ferguson admitted the charge but told officers he killed Andrews in self-defense, fleeing to escape trial. The case is expected to be presented to the grand jury.

Funeral Services For Church Leader Held at Baltimore

Baltimore, October 7. (AP)—Bishops from widely separated parts of the country took part today in funeral services for Bishop John G. Murray, presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church, who died suddenly while presiding last week over the house of bishops at Atlantic City.

The funeral was in St. Michael and all Angels church, where Bishop Murray had been rector and where he was consecrated bishop 20 years ago. The church was crowded and many persons stood on the sidewalk outside, while for three hours before the service a steady procession had filed past the body which lay in state in the chapel of Remembrance.

CARAWAY CHAIRMAN OF LOBBY PROBERS

Investigators, Including Walsh and Borah, To Take Up Tariff Group First.

Washington, October 7. (AP)—Investigation of the lobby at Washington interested in the tariff bill was picked as the first job of the senate lobby investigating committee today by Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, who was named chairman of the inquiry.

A committee of five was selected by Chairman Norris, of the Judiciary committee to conduct the inquiry. Senators Walsh, democrat, Montana; Borah, Idaho; Robinson, Indiana; and Blaine, Wisconsin, republicans, are the other members.

Facing a broad field in the senate order to search into all lobbying activities at the capitol, the committee plans to survey the situation for a few days in an attempt to organize. The hearings are not expected to begin before the end of next week.

Chairman Caraway said he feels first attention should and could be given to those now at Washington seeking to influence the senate on the pending tariff bill. He has named the Southern Tariff league and Joseph R. Gundy, Washington representative of the American Tariff league, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, as among those to be called.

Independents On Body. The committee named by Senator Norris includes two of the republican independent group which is fighting the tariff bill proposed by the republican regulars of the finance committee—Senators Borah and Blaine.

Without representation on the finance committee, the northwestern republican independents will now have an opportunity to ascertain what organizations or individuals sought to influence the tariff legislation while it was being framed.

Four of the five members of the committee are prohibitionists—Borah, Robinson, Caraway and Walsh. Three—Borah, Blaine and Walsh—voted against the 15-cruiser bill passed last session.

It is considered likely that all organizations and activities, including particularly the peace and preparedness advocates as well as the prohibition and anti-prohibition societies will come under the surveillance of the committee.

Discusses Scope. Discussing the scope of the committee's investigation, Senator Caraway made a distinction between lobbying and propaganda. He was inclined to believe that those organizations and agencies engaged purely in propaganda work did not come under the committee's eye. He feels the investigation should be directed at those who are seeking to influence congress directly in the enactment of legislation rather than those who are endeavoring to influence public opinion.

In this connection, the chairman indicated he was not much interested in the activities of the wet and dry organizations or of the church and other institutions except in so far as their activities were centered on legislation.

As for particular decisions by the finance committee republicans on the tariff bill, Senator Caraway said he was not inclined to call members of the committee to explain their actions. He does intend to get a list of those who appeared before the committee while the bill was being framed.

OFFICERS' ACCUSER REPORTED MISSING; MURDER SUSPECTED

Louisville, Ky., October 7. (AP)—A confessed bootlegger whose story of protection graft paid to police resulted in federal conspiracy warrants against four detectives and a patrolman was reported "missing" today.

The bootlegger, James A. Skillman, was last heard from at 9:30 o'clock last night, his wife stated. At that hour, she said he told her over the telephone that "the bunch has got me."

After these words, she said, she heard a crash.

Skillman left his home yesterday afternoon, his wife said, to visit one of the accused officers, Glenn Tennant, and ask Tennant to join him in trying against the other four.

He did not reach Tennant's house, police assigned to investigate the disappearance reported.

CHILE CONTRACT AWARDED U. S. MAIL PLANES

Tampa, Fla., October 7. (AP)—The New York, Rio Janeiro and Buenos Aires line, now operating in South America and preparing to open an 8,000-mile air route between New York and South America for mail, passengers and packages, with the new year, has been granted a concession to carry 25 per cent of all Chilean mail from Santiago to Buenos Aires, Argentina, to the West Indies and to the United States, it was announced today.

Kansas City, Mo. (Special)—An improved method which many users agree has no equal for curative effects in cases of reducible groin rupture is the achievement of Dr. Andrew Kaiser, well-known Hernia expert of this city. The extraordinary success of this method has been proven in hundreds of cases. It weighs only a few ounces. Has no hard gripping pads, no elastic belt, no leg straps, no cruel steel bands and it is as comfortable as a light garment. It has enabled hundreds of persons to throw away trusses and declare themselves well and then have had no serious double ruptures from which they had suffered for years. It is Dr. Kaiser's ambition to have all those afflicted with rupture enjoy the relief, comfort and blessing of his method and he has arranged to have it sent on trial to any reader of The Constitution who writes him at his office, 1220 Koch Bldg., 2908 Main St., Kansas City, Mo. He wants one person in each neighborhood to whom he can refer. Take advantage of the doctor's offer. Write him today.

nounced today by company officials. The announcement said President Banez signed the agreement last Friday. The contract also includes mail carrying rights to all countries on the east coast of South America from Chile. This was said to be the sixth such contract signed by the air line with South American republics, all of said.

What Price LAZY APPETITE

"Dear, are you not glad you followed my suggestion when I urged you to try S.S.S. for your lost appetite?"

HAVE you an indifference or loathing for food, or do you really enjoy mealtime?

Fads and fancies come and go. We must be reasonable. You can't afford to wreck your body by "killing" an appetite given you by Nature to nourish your body.

You must really enjoy your meals and assimilate them to restore the waste of the body. Don't expect a strong, sturdy body and a keen mind to carry on if you do not enjoy your food. It just can't be done. Friends, happiness and business success may depend on a keen appetite.

Many thousands have turned to S. S. S. when the appetite signaled danger. It is a time-tested remedy... purely vegetable. Easy to assimilate. Pleasant to take. It will do much to restore the natural appetite. It will not act instantly, but, be assured, when taken according to directions, it will usually bring back your desire to eat and enjoy your food. This you well know is the basic step for health. Simply reason it out for yourself and you will agree that it is the practical way.

And remember, S.S.S. will help you get your blood-cells back up to normal. Then that sluggish, let-down feeling and skin troubles will disappear. You should sleep soundly. Firm flesh should take the place of that which was once flabby. You should feel strong. Your nerves become steady.

S.S.S. gives to Nature what it needs in making you feel like yourself again. At all drug stores in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., MAN FOUND DEAD IN HOTEL

Death of Charles W. Parker, 35, Believed Due to Cerebral Hemorrhage.

Charles W. Parker, business man of Knoxville, Tenn., was found dead Monday in his room at a local hotel. It is believed he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage early in the day or Sunday night and succumbed before he could summon aid. The body was removed to H. M. Patterson & Son, funeral establishment, where it was being held Monday pending removal to Knoxville, where his people had been notified of the death.

According to the hotel records, Mr. Parker came to Atlanta about three weeks ago. On September 23 he had a cerebral hemorrhage, as diagnosed by Dr. H. M. Askew, local physician summoned, who ordered removal of the patient to the Davis-Fischer sanatorium. Mr. Parker's condition improved and last week he returned to the hotel, where he apparently intended to remain until he had recovered his health. It is believed that he suffered a relapse which brought on a second attack early Monday or late Sunday night. Dr. Askew, who was summoned Monday when employees of the hotel found Mr. Parker dead in his room, indicated the cause of the death was a recurrence of the hemorrhage. According to hotel employees, Mr. Parker appeared to be a well-groomed man of about 35 years. He was believed to have been prominently engaged in real estate business at Knoxville. In his room was found correspondence with L. M. Ross, Knoxville.

RAGING HEADACHES WOULD LAST TWO DAYS AND NIGHTS

Entire System Run-Down When She Began Taking Sargon—Is "Like Different Woman Now," She Says.

The most convincing proof of the health-giving powers of any medicine comes from those who have put it to the test and are glad to give others the benefit of their experience.

MRS. LUNA HENRY.

Sargon has received the praise and acclaim of thousands, who declare they have been restored to vigorous health through its use. Ask your neighbors, your friends or anyone else who has taken Sargon, and hear for yourself the evidence of its real worth and merit. Case after case can be cited, like that of Mrs. Luna Henry, 700 Lindsey St., N. W., Atlanta, who recently said:

"I was in perfectly wretched health for the past two years. An inactive liver and constipation had me taking laxatives nearly every day. I used to have raging headaches and sometimes they would last for two whole days and nights. The glands in my neck hurt me and I had awful pains in my back and limbs. There was a dull ache under my shoulder blades and I felt so bad that, half the time, I wasn't able to do my housework. My stomach was in such a weakened condition that even the simplest foods would cause indigestion. My whole system was in a run-down condition and I was actually blue and discouraged. When I began to hear so many of my friends and neighbors talking about this new Sargon treatment and telling how much it had helped them, I decided to try it and that was the turning point for me.

"It certainly is wonderful to be well and strong like I am now! I have gained six pounds and feel just like a different woman since taking Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills. My stomach trouble has been entirely overcome and my appetite is so good that I can hardly get enough to eat. Every ache and pain in my body has disappeared and I'm so strong and energetic that my housework is a pleasure.

"But the finest thing of all is the way Sargon Pills toned up my liver and rid me of constipation. They didn't nauseate or upset me in the least but they certainly were thorough. Now that my elimination is regular, I'm free from those terrible headaches that made my life so miserable.

"I'm so happy over the results I got from Sargon that I hardly know how to express my gratitude. I wouldn't have believed any medicine could have done me so much good but now that I've proven it to my own case, I'm only too glad to recommend it to everybody."

Iron and Steel Rate Reduction Held as Robber, Girl Auto Driver Faints in Court

Orders of the Georgia public service commission requiring railroads of the state to reduce their rates on manufactured iron and steel articles from Atlanta to Savannah and Brunswick will become effective on November 1.

In making this announcement Chairman Perry of the commission stated that in the latter part of 1926 the carriers petitioned the commission for authority to make a complete revision of railroad rates on iron and steel articles between all points in Georgia. At the time this petition was filed, and for many years, the railroads had voluntarily published lower rates to Savannah and Brunswick than the maximum rates authorized by the commission. These lower rates being published for the purpose of meeting the competition of iron and steel manufacturers in eastern territory that shipped via Baltimore and other eastern seaboard cities, thence the water routes to Savannah and Brunswick. The rates via these water routes were much lower than the all-rail routes. The carriers stated, however, it would be their purpose to endeavor to get the rates via the water routes increased in proportion to the proposed increased rates from Atlanta to Savannah and Brunswick.

Rates Are Revised. "The Georgia commission," said Mr. Perry, "an order effective January 1, 1927, revising the rates between points in Georgia, and authorized the cancellation of the lower rates from Atlanta to Savannah and Brunswick, no objections being offered to this cancellation on the part of the Atlanta manufacturers, with the understanding that the interstate water competitive rates were increased proportionately.

"The railroads, through error, failed to cancel some of the rates and recently petitioned the commission for authority to make this cancellation and take advantage of the increased rates which the commission authorized in January, 1927. The manufacturers in Atlanta protested this cancellation and filed a counter petition, asking that the competitive rates which the carriers had voluntarily published and maintained for many years prior to 1927 be restored on the grounds that the interstate rates from eastern territory had not been increased.

"The evidence submitted to the commission showed that subsequent to the cancellation of the competitive rates the business of the Atlanta manufacturers to Savannah and Brunswick had greatly decreased, which has resulted in decreased revenues to the railroads.

"The Georgia commission points out in its order that it has no jurisdiction over the interstate rates from Georgia and Brunswick and can only deal with the Georgia intrastate situation, and in its opinion it is the duty of the Georgia carriers to provide competitive rates to meet competition of this character. This has been the policy of the carriers for many years and if such competitive rates are not established it is detrimental to the industrial growth of Georgia and if continued will eventually result in depleting carriers' revenues to the point where it will be necessary to increase the rates between all other points in Georgia to offset the losses in revenue on the business to these points.

"In issuing its order the commission has authorized the railroads to charge higher rates at intermediate points not affected by the water competition, but no higher than combination or higher than maximum mileage rates, which the commission authorized in January, 1927."

Matter of Importance. Chairman Perry stated that the matter of competitive rates was of extreme importance to the manufacturers and shippers and the railroads of Georgia, as well as throughout the southern territory, and mentioned the fact that within the past few months the interstate commerce commission issued an order revising the rates from Georgia and other southern states to territory west of the Mississippi river, which did not permit the railroads to voluntarily establish competitive rates at the Gulf ports or to interior southwestern territory where they come in competition with the water lines from the east and also the territory north of the Ohio river, which have much lower rates than are required from Georgia and other southern states. This order has resulted in heavy losses to the railroads in the way of revenue and also to the manufacturers in Georgia and other southern states, due to their inability to meet legitimate competition, he said. The Georgia commission filed a protest with the interstate commerce commission and has submitted evidence to show the discrimination has been forced upon the Georgia shippers as well as the railroads. The conditions surrounding the rates from Atlanta to Savannah and Brunswick are practically the same as that to southwestern territory and the commission takes the position that it is to the interest of the railroads, as well as to the shippers, that these water competitive rates to the ports be continued, Mr. Perry stated.

Chicago, October 7.—(AP)—Joan La Coste, successful daredevil of the auto track, who last week was arrested in an attempted robbery with a toy pistol and a chloroform-soaked handkerchief, today lost her nerve completely and fainted in court when she was ordered held to the grand jury in $25,000 bond.

Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Carver, of Memphis, Tenn., who three years ago possessed the steel nerve to enable her to drive an automobile 145 miles an hour at Daytona Beach, Fla., was unable to control her emotions when arraigned before Municipal Judge Francis Borrelli. Miss La Coste was arrested Thursday when she attempted to rob Mrs. Rebecca Bobbe, who resisted and brought about her assailant's downfall.

"But—don't you see?" Joan pleaded in court today. "I had bad breaks. I was broke—and I thought Mrs. Bobbe had so much more than she needed."

Sobbing, Joan told how she came to Chicago last November with $1,400 prize money; how continual illness dissipated the stake and left her a few nights ago with only $5. "I never did anything like this before," she told the judge. "I never did. All I want is another chance. I'll go straight. I'll never do it again."

"You deserve no more consideration than a man," said the court. "Your assault on Mrs. Bobbe was cruel and unprovoked."

Word came from Memphis that Joan's parents and relatives had rallied to her aid and that her sister was on her way to Chicago.

PARDONS ARE SOUGHT FOR PETTIT AND GILLON

Youth Was Convicted in Death of Paul Hulme; Lawyer of Larceny.

The cases of Robert Pettit and George H. Gillon were placed before the state prison commission Monday by their attorneys, seeking pardons. Pettit, an Atlanta youth, was convicted of involuntary manslaughter and sentenced to die one to two years. He had fired a shot through a signboard on Forrest road, behind which the body of Paul Hulme, a young boy, was later found.

Gillon, a prominent Atlanta attorney, pleaded guilty to larceny after arrest, and was sentenced to from two and one-half to four years.

Pettit's attorney brought out that when the fatal shot was fired the youth had no knowledge of the fact that anyone was behind the signboard. The homicide was purely accidental. It was contended.

Gillon's application was based on the condition of his health. At the time of his conviction, it was said, he was in a highly nervous condition and was unable physically to endure a trial. Recently, in the Monroe county prison, he suffered a stroke and others are feared if he is kept in his present surroundings.

Both cases were taken under advisement by the prison board.

JOHN COOLIDGE BACK AT DESK AFTER HONEYMOON

New Haven, Conn., October 7.—(AP) John Coolidge back from his honeymoon at Moosehead lake, resumed his duties as a clerk in the operating offices of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad today. His wife, who was Florence Trumbull, drove him from her father's home at Plainville in time for him to be at his desk on schedule.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge were overnight guests of Governor and Mrs. John Trumbull, having arrived at the executive home from Portland, Maine, on the last stage of their trip from the summer camp of the governor yesterday in Florence's roadster.

Their apartment in Fountain street had been made ready for their occupancy but it will be necessary for the bride to arrange the furniture and fittings as most of the former was not delivered until last Wednesday. The transfer of the furniture from the vans to the apartment drew close attention from watchful neighbors.

Catarrh Is Terrible Drain on Vitality

Find a man, woman or child who is afflicted with catarrh of the nose and its connecting air passages and you will always find a patient who is most susceptible to more serious diseases. Why? Science explains that catarrh interferes with natural breathing, thus preventing proper purification of the blood by the lungs and also prevents refreshing sleep. Catarrh is a constant drain upon the nutrition of the body, making the patient weak and thereby susceptible to diseases such as head and chest colds.

Your physician will tell you that catarrh is a local condition, not a systemic disease. You must fight it constantly with a local remedy that reaches the spot. Of the many remedies that have been tested by Nose and Throat Specialists to relieve the irritation and reduce the congestion

DEPUTY AND FEDERAL AGENT SHOOT IT OUT

Lightning Draw and Hair Trigger Claim Two Victims.

Nacogdoches, Texas, October 7.—(AP)—A Texas deputy sheriff and a federal prohibition officer were dead today, victims of a gun fight staged in the way of the old west—curt words of warning and then life dependent upon a lightning draw and a hair trigger.

The participants—and dead men—were Claude King, deputy sheriff, and L. Chance.

King, according to his friends, heard that Chance had accused him of "standing in with the bootleggers." The two met in Sheriff Eugene Turner's office yesterday. "I hear you have been saying some pretty hard things about me," said King.

Sheriff Turner warned the men not to argue or fight in his office, and might have averted the duel, but a telephone rang in a nearby room and he stepped out to answer it. Shots sounded before he reached the telephone. When he returned he found Chance dead. King, with three bullet wounds, had staggered to his automobile. He was taken to a hospital and an operation was performed in an effort to save his life, but he died several hours after the shooting.

King was an unsuccessful candidate for sheriff last year. Before that he served on the Shreveport (La.) police force. Chance was deputy sheriff here before he entered the federal service.

Wise legislation has halted the ancient prejudice that dictated the exploitation of child labor for selfish gain. Guided by AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE it has routed greed. No longer are little children forced into slavery.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

TECH TO HONOR HARRIS AT CEREMONIES TODAY

Students and Faculty Members Will Pay Tribute to Founder of School.

Students of the Georgia School of Technology and members of the faculty will assemble in the gymnasium at 11 o'clock this morning for formal memorial services in honor of the late Governor Nat E. Harris, beloved Georgian and founder of the institution. The exercises will be attended by prominent friends of the school and of the former governor.

Up to the time of his death a few weeks ago, Governor Harris served as chairman of the Georgia Tech board of trustees and devoted much of his time in behalf of the college. Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of the institution, will preside at the memorial ceremonies today. Participating in the program will be John T. Bonfeuillet, who will represent the state at large; L. W. (Chip) Robert, of the Tech board of trustees, and Francis Hall, of Macon, a sophomore at the school, who will represent the student body. All classes will be suspended for an hour in honor of the departed friend and benefactor of the educational institution.

While a member of the house of representatives of the state legislature, Governor Harris championed the bill authorizing establishment of Georgia Tech as an independent institution. Since that time he has taken an active part in furthering the interest of the school. Up to last June, when his health failed him, the former governor never missed a commencement at the school, and usually was the one to hand graduates their diplomas as they went forth from the college into the world of affairs. His name is signed to the diplomas of thousands of Georgia Tech graduates.

Mrs. McCluskey told Judge Martineau she had obtained the whisky from two negroes who owed her a grocery bill, and she was merely holding it until the negroes could find sale for it. She operates a small grocery store near Arkansas City. She said she supported a ten-year-old son and her 65-year-old mother.

15 PER CENT LOSS IS TOLL OF STORM TO GEORGIA CROPS

Eugene Talmadge, state commissioner of agriculture, estimated Monday that Georgia's cotton crop had suffered a loss of 15 per cent in the recent storms. The estimate was made in reply to a request of Harry D. Wilson, Louisiana agricultural commissioner and president of the association of commissioners of cotton states, who indicated that he was compiling a statement of all damages to cotton crops.

Mr. Talmadge also expressed the opinion that only ideal weather and a late fall can bring the Georgia crop up to 950,000 bales.

COURT REVERSES $16,000 VERDICT AGAINST RAILROAD

Judgment for $16,000, given Mrs. W. F. Hetzel against the Western & Atlantic railroad, was reversed by the supreme court in a decision Monday. The plaintiff's husband, a railroad engineer, was killed when his engine struck a rock and derailed near Cartersville. The judgment, which was given by the Bartow court, was reversed because of the improper admission of evidence of another trial.

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET

Tells How to Darken Gray Hair With a Home-Made Mixture.

Joice Williams, the well-known American actress, recently made the following statement about gray hair, and how to darken it, with a home-made mixture:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will gradually darken gray, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1-4 ounce of glycerine."

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.—(adv.)

First Stock Motor Truck to Cross the Sahara Comes to Atlanta

SEASONED desert travelers said it could not be done, but Sir Charles Markham and Baron von Blixen-Finecke—in their stock-model International Special Delivery truck—plunged across the arid wastes of the Sahara Desert to success. And the whole world marveled at their achievement.

Over 2,800 miles of burning, shifting sand; through sixteen days of 125-degree temperature; across waterless wastes, where it has never been known to rain; trackless, dangerous country, never before conquered by a stock four-wheeled motor vehicle. And this was the same truck which C. N. King had already piloted across Equatorial Africa, 3,800 adventurous miles in nineteen driving days.

Sir Charles and Baron Blixen faced death and destruction for days; with their very lives depending upon the performance of their International. And through the whole experience they never once had occasion to doubt its ability to carry on. This, with a truck built for your kind of service.

Now, this famous International truck comes to America in order that every one may see and examine the truck that conquered the Sahara Desert. We invite you to come and see this International while it is on exhibition here.

This famous truck will be on exhibition at the Southeastern Fair, in the Industrial Building, from Monday, October 7th, throughout the remainder of the Fair.

An interesting four-color booklet written by Mr. C. N. King and Sir Charles Markham is available.

This book tells of the dangers and difficulties encountered in their respective journeys across Equatorial Africa and the burning Sahara Desert.

This map shows the route of C. N. King from Nairobi to Kano, as well as the route taken by Sir Charles Markham and Baron von Blixen-Finecke from Kano to Algiers, and on to London, via Marseilles and Paris.

Hard to Breathe at Night?

It's foolish to run chances with those wheezing, gasping spells associated with Asthma and nasal irritations at night when you can get prompt relief in just a few minutes' time. How? Go to your drugstore and get a box of Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes right now. That's the first step.

Next, smoke a few during the day and one just before you go to bed—and the chances are you won't lose sleep tonight. But in any case, you can be sure if you are attacked that just a few puffs of one of Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes will quickly relieve you.

Thousands of men and women keep Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes handy at night. One Atlanta, Ga., woman says she knows if she has a bad breathing spell, she will be able to get to sleep in a few minutes after smoking one of these medical cigarettes. No tobacco or cube in Dr. Blosser's—just a special combination of herbs, berries and flowers whose soothing vapor has a clearing action that opens up air passages as nothing else can.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

With the return of fine, clear weather after such a lengthy absence, local fliers took full advantage of the unusual atmospheric conditions to do a lot of flying at Candler Field Monday. Hordes of students were for "time" and some little passenger hopping was carried on.

Workmen are busily engaged in the work of preparing the airport for the arrival of visitors to arrive Saturday with the Ford Reliability Tour. Although the contesting pilots will see an airport still in its embryonic state, enough dirt has been moved and enough grading completed to give them a sort of vague idea of what they might expect should they visit Atlanta a year hence. Filling up of crevices, the result of the recent rains, and the smoothing out of hillsides are going on daily, that the Ford planes may have nothing but "happy landings" at the local port. A new Standard Oil gas station, being built just across the road from the refreshment stand, is assuming shape and should be completed by the time of the tour's arrival. The new station, which is of brick, is to supply fuel to ships of the Southern Air Transport.

Two interesting visiting planes landed at the airport Monday. One was a DeHavilland Moth, powered with a Cirrus Mark III, 95-horsepower, four-in-line air-cooled engine, flown here from St. Louis by Pilot Bill Gillette, on a sales tour. President Von Hoffman, of the Von Hoffman Aircraft Company, of St. Louis, Moth distributors for this territory, is accompanying Gillette on the tour of principal airports. The Moth has a number of interesting features, including Handley-Page wing slots, which, it is claimed, greatly reduce a plane's stalling speed, thereby lessening the spin hazard. This ship is the second of its type ever seen at Candler Field. The first one came through here a short time ago as a contestant in the Miami-Cleveland derby, one of the feature events preceding the National Air Races.

Candler Field's first Spartan, a trim biplane manufactured by the Spartan Aircraft Corporation, of Tulsa, Okla., glided to a landing Monday. This ship, which is equipped with a Wright J-6 or 165 horsepower, also is on a sales tour of the south and is scheduled to depart this morning for Montgomery and other points in that vicinity. The Spartan was piloted here by V. B. Grant, salesman for the company, who was accompanied by his wife and the family dog.

Thirteen persons, including one woman, became members of the famous Caterpillar Club by saving lives in emergency parachute jumps from disabled aircraft during the month ending September 11, the largest number of members added in any similar period in the history of aviation except when the month ending July 11, 1920, when 15 lives were saved.

Three of the life-saving incidents among the 13 in September were of more than usual interest. One was the leap of Lieutenant J. H. Doolittle, famous air racing pilot and winner of the Schneider Cup race in 1925, who used the life preserver of the air during the Cleveland aviation show when the wings of his ship folded up several thousand feet in the air. Another emergency parachute jump was notable because it gave the club its second known woman member in Miss Fay Gillis, a young student flier at Curtis Field, Valley Stream, Long Island. Both Miss Gillis and her instructor reached the ground safely when their training ship disabled over the field.

The third new member of the Caterpillar whose record is unusual is Harry E. R. Hall, believed to be the only member of the New York Stock Exchange who owes his life to the chute. Hall, a civilian flier, was stunting over his private flying field at Gloucester, Va., with Lieutenant T. S. Power, his brother-in-law, as a passenger. The fabric of the upper right wing gave way during a half roll and shortly thereafter the wing collapsed, throwing the ship into a power spin. Lieutenant Power, a Kelly field graduate, jumped first and Hall followed immediately, both landing safely.

BOARD OF TRADE MEET TO DISCUSS FARM PROSPECTS
Savannah, Ga., October 7.—(AP)—Monday, October 28, has been set as the date of the co-operative meeting of the board of trade and its association members with representatives of 100 counties in Georgia and Florida will meet in Savannah to discuss agriculture prospects.

Clarence Poe, of Raleigh, N. C., editor of Progressive Farmer, will be one of the speakers, as well as Charles S. Barrett, of Augusta. Associate members of the board of trade have been planning this meeting for some weeks and in the meantime surveys of products have been made in many counties under the supervision of district agricultural agents.

AUTO AND TRUCK COLLIDE, KILLING 2 MISSISSIPPIANS
Belmont, Miss., October 7.—(AP)—Two were killed and three were injured, one seriously, in collision of an automobile and log truck 12 miles south of here today. The dead: John Blaine, of Golden, driver of the truck; J. E. Reed, 6.

W. J. Woodruff was injured so critically that he is believed dying in a Tupelo hospital.

JESSE DRAPER HEADS AERONAUTIC CHAPTER

Plans Are Made for Entertaining Ford Reliability Tourists.

Re-election of Jesse Draper as president of Atlanta chapter, National Aeronautic Association, at the chapter's annual meeting Monday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce.

JESSE DRAPER.

was followed by discussion of final plans for entertainment of the Ford Reliability Tour next Saturday and Sunday.

Details of the various angles of the tour's visit to Atlanta were threshed out and turned over to committees for handling. Reports on the tour showed that 20 planes took off from Detroit, in addition to a dozen or more accompanying official planes. J. W. Crowell, former Atlanta, is piloting the Curtiss Condor, one of the largest planes in the tour, it was reported.

Arrangements for policing Candler field during the visit of the tour, and for handling traffic to and from the airport were discussed. Other matters considered included the sale of tickets to the airport Saturday and Sunday.

One of the features of entertainment to be provided the internationally known tour pilots and official party will be a hot dinner-dance at the Atlanta Athletic Club Saturday night. Two hundred and fifty tickets have been taken by the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce to sell and the N. A. A. chapter has 250 tickets which it is disposing of.

In addition to re-election of officers and directors, three new directors were named. These are Harris E. Williamson, Bruce E. Woodruff and N. S. Noble. The officers include, in addition to Mr. Draper, T. E. Moore, vice president; N. Baxter Maddox, treasurer; and William A. Dunlap, secretary. Directors re-elected are: Beeler Hileman, C. C. Bowden, Walter T. Candler, Professor C. E. Cooleidge, Milton Dargan, Jr., Douglas Davis, Henderson Hallman, William B. Hartsfield, Dr. Herbert B. Kennedy, E. K. Large, Al Major, Harry O. Mitchell, Stanford E. Moses, John K. Otley, Jr., George H. Prudden and D. Mackay Solenberger.

VETERANS OF GRAY OPEN MEETING TODAY

Quitman, Ga., October 7.—(Special.)—The vanguard of the Georgia division of the United Confederate Veterans arrived this afternoon over the South Georgia railway in three special coaches.

Others arrived during the early afternoon by automobile and buses to find Quitman decorated with flags and bunting, with Confederate colors mingling with the Stars and Stripes. The homes of the city have been opened to the veterans while the sponsors and their chaperons will be guests of the city and will be entertained at the Hotel General Quitman, official headquarters for the reunion.

Everywhere in the city, on business buildings, residences and automobiles are flying the Confederate flags. A feature of the decoration scheme is a Confederate flag covering each wayward globe. The sidewalks in all parts of the business center of the city display American Legion flags.

While the reunion does not officially open until tomorrow morning, special services were held tonight at the Methodist church. The courtesies of the city and the city have been extended all veterans and sponsors and many informal receptions will be held throughout the city in private homes.

250 Expected.

Indications are that every camp in the Georgia division will be represented by delegations of veterans as well as sponsors and chaperons and the attendance is expected to be as great as last year when the total reached 250.

The official program begins Tuesday morning with a three-hour program at the First Baptist church. Immediately following the church program, the veterans will be entertained at the Springs, eight miles east of Quitman, where a barbecue will be given by the Rotary Club, the Lions Club, the American Legion, the Chamber of Commerce and the city of Quitman. Only a musical program has been arranged for the barbecue and music will be furnished by a band and an orchestra.

The afternoon business session follows the barbecue and will be held at the courthouse. On Tuesday night supper will be served to the veterans, the sponsors and their chaperons at the Quitman Country Club, the women's organizations of the city acting as joint hosts.

On Tuesday night the veterans will be guests of civic and business organizations at the basketball shell at an old-time country dance, with a stringed orchestra.

Wednesday morning there will be a business session in the courthouse, after which a basket dinner will be served in the courthouse park by the city and county. Adjournment follows the dinner.

JUDGE OF RABBIT SHOW IS HONOR GUEST AT BANQUET

Judge Reed V. Storms, of Kansas City, judge of the rabbit show at the Southeastern Fair, was honor guest at a banquet given at the Analee hotel at 7 o'clock Monday night by the members of the Atlanta Rabbit and Cavy Breeders Club. C. W. Isbell was in charge of all arrangements.

A large number of the prominent rabbit fanciers and their wives were present. A short talk was given by Judge Storms.

Lieutenant James Morrison acted as toastmaster, introducing all present.

Atlanta Presbyterian Ministers' Association Elects New Officers

Rev. I. T. Hawk, pastor of Rock Springs Presbyterian church, was elected president of the Atlanta Ministers' Association of the church, at a meeting Monday morning. Other officers elected were Rev. Carl McMurray, pastor of Morningside church, vice president, and T. P. Burgess, re-elected as secretary and treasurer.

Rev. McMurray gave an interesting account of his recent trip to Palestine. Dr. Harvey Cox, president of Emory University, will discuss "The Community Christ," at next Monday's meeting of the association.

COTTON FIGURES TO BE SAFEGUARDED

Every Precaution To Be Taken To Prevent Recurrence of Errors.

Washington, October 7.—(AP)—The census bureau reported to the senate today that additional safeguards would be employed hereafter to prevent a recurrence of an error in the last ginning report which fixed Georgia's ginned cotton at 300,000 more bales than actually existed.

The report, signed by Director Stuart, of the census bureau, and transmitted by Secretary Lamont, explained the error occurred when a clerk placed the wrong figure on the state ginning card as read to him by another clerk from the adding machine slip.

"To prevent a recurrence of an error of this kind," the letter said, "instructions have been issued that after a checking of the addition tape with the county cards, one clerk shall take the tape and the state card and enter the amount for the state and that the tape and the state card shall then be handed to another clerk who shall verify the transaction on the state card from the tape.

"A further safeguard will be the tabulation of ginnings between report dates in prior years for each state, together with a statement of the latest forecast of the department of agriculture as to the current crop, these to be used for comparative purposes."

"LUCKY IN LOVE," an all-talking and singing radio picture featuring Morton Downey, radio and record singer, with Betty Lawford, a talking and singing actress, is a very nice picture. The picture begins at 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 5:30 and 8:30 p. m.

Featured by the singing of Morton Downey, that soft-voiced tenor who has been so well in "Syncope" and whose voice is familiar to radio listeners and record-buyers, "Lucky in Love" is a good program picture with a nice entertainment average.

Betty Lawford, who made such a hit with most screen fans as the daughter in "Gentlemen of the Press" is seen opposite Morton Downey. The chubby tenor plays an Irish stable-boy whose mama dropped him on his head at the blarney stone, apparently. Anyway, this lad is the wonder of the countryside with his beautiful songs, according to the story, and he's such a nifty vocalist that Lady Somebody-or-other immediately tumbles like a load of Irish confetti for her stable-boy.

All of which might make Signor Boccaccio sit down and prepare to write himself a really nifty tale, but this is pure love, much to the chagrin of audiences, probably. Most boys away to Gotham where fame and fortune fall into his not-too-suspicious lap, and then complications set in.

You'll like this one.

—ELMO HAMBY.

At the Metropolitan.

"Words and Music," a Fox musical talking picture featuring Lois Moran, David Gray and Tom Patullo, is a very nice picture. The picture begins at 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 5:30 and 8:30 p. m.

An uncommonly pleasing little musical, singing and dancing vehicle. "Words and Music" is being screened at the Metropolitan theater this week. It was made by Fox, who produced the Moritone Follies.

Set in a collegiate atmosphere, the story concerns itself with the production of a college musical comedy which is done in a Ziegfeld and John Murray Anderson rather than with the usual production of an amateur.

Rival scenes for the production are to be featured by Lois Moran, heroine, who has a share in the story, and from the goody-goody bits usually handed out to her and the alleged villainess who would steal our Lois' part in the musical comedy.

It is nice entertainment which carries along well with its fragmentary story.

Those ridiculous boys, Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, are just as potent laugh-getters in "Men o' War" as they usually are.

A pleasing feature on the program is Annie Mae Norton, playing a program at the organ. This lives up to the program considerably and goes a long way toward softening the mechanical nature of any all-talking program which has no human element.

FIND THE TWINS

At first glance all the young ladies look alike; but you are asked to find the Twins that are clothed exactly alike. Now then: upon closer examination you will find a difference in their wearing apparel. Have they all earrings or necklaces? How about their coats and hats? Are they trimmed the same? Some have bands on the brim and crowns, others have not. Maybe the difference is just the buttonhole in the lapel of the coat.

It takes real care and cleverness to point out the difference and find the two real Twins, because two and only two are identically the same.

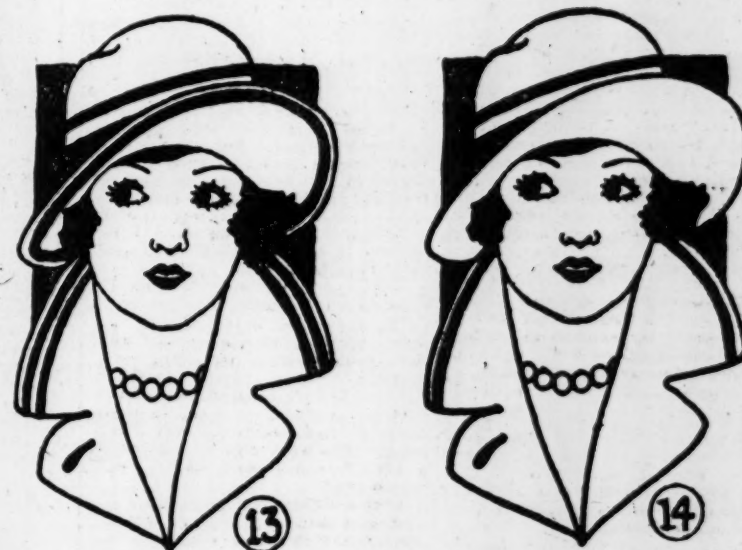

When you have found the twins, write the numbers in the coupon at right, fill in your name and complete address and mail at once to the Puzzle Manager, The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. In the event of ties in the final awarding, prizes of equal value will be given.

Think of it—you can win as much as $4,000.00 cash and a $1,500.00 Buick four-door sedan! Yes, sir! $7,540.00 in cash prizes may be won in this interesting puzzle contest plus the $1,500.00 Buick Sedan, and these prizes will be awarded after the close of the contest, November 12th, 1929.

10 CASH PRIZES IN EACH PRIZE GROUP

You can win first prize in list 3, first prize in list 2, first prize in list 1, or you can win one prize in each prize group, but not more than one prize in a group. This gives you a chance of winning all of the first cash prizes, or a total of $4,000.00 cash plus a magnificent $1,500.00 four-door Buick Sedan, fully equipped with spotlight, for promptness.

THE CATCH.

There was time enough for his purpose, thought Malleron.

"Let me take the liberty of expressing your thoughts more clearly," he was saying with a quiet, rasping mockery that frayed Beresford's nerves. "You are of opinion, my dear Beresford, that I am a complete fool to let young Harris loose."

"I have no doubt that you have your reasons, chief," said Beresford. "But all the same, I wish I could persuade you to cancel the order."

"Let me confess, Beresford. Your eloquence would be wasted, my dear fellow. That young man—he glanced at the clock—either has left the ship or is at this moment about to leave it."

Beresford started and instinctively looked over his shoulder as if he suspected that the subject of their conversation would burst into the room. Then he glanced at Malleron with sudden suspicion.

"I suppose you're sure of your facts, chief. If they were at the island at five this morning, the nearest port they could make—"

"What would they want with a port?" rasped Malleron. This energetic, somewhat self-righteous young man must have been chafing under his enforced restraint.

"I've taken his impatience for granted," said Beresford ill tempered by.

"The 'Cornelia,'" continued Malleron, "as nearly as it is possible to calculate, is a hundred or more miles south of the island and some two hundred miles from the coast of Scotland. A successful voyage—you will be pleased to hear, Beresford. The ship is virtually full, but at the same time she has landed provisions and plant sufficient to last for some six months. She will continue on her voyage. Her captain is specifically instructed not to interfere with the pleasure of our clients by going to any unscheduled port."

Suddenly Beresford brightened. "I'm afraid you've overdone it this time, sir. If you're thinking that he can persuade the captain to let him use the light airplane—"

"Capt. Marwood has instructions to allow him to do so."

"I daresay. All the same, Doug won't use it to fly to the coast. That airplane on the Cornelia has been adapted for very short journeys. Perhaps you've forgotten that we went into it at the time. More than two-thirds of the petrol tank is cargo space. It was intended for ten-mile journeys. I doubt if it could keep in the air for 50 miles."

"Dear me! Tut! Tut! Tut! I seem to have made a somewhat ridiculous blunder," said Malleron with that in his voice that made Beresford stare very hard at him.

"I shouldn't call it a blunder," said Beresford uneasily. "It's a technical detail that you seem to have overlooked."

"Yes, yes. Perhaps I am growing vain—and a little careless. In humility I come back to the expert—to you, my dear Beresford. Tell me now what will be the effect of my having overlooked this little technical matter? The airplane, we will suppose, is at this very moment being lowered into the sea. This young man is about to embark, or whatever term you air-men use—you must forgive my ignorance. The ship—the good 'Cornelia'—is at anchor. The young man is about to start his flight. He suddenly exclaims, 'I fear, but he shouts back to those on the ship: 'I can't reach the coast of Scotland in this—it won't fly 50 miles! . . . Are you in trouble, my dear Beresford, or has my ignorance led me to some absurd statement?"

Beresford had staggered to his feet. "The indicator would show a full tank," he almost whispered.

"O . . . O!" Malleron appeared to be trying to understand this information. "Bear with my ignorance, Beresford. The indicator—"

"It's simply a float that works a dial. The dial would show a full tank—in the part of the tank in which the dial was fixed it would be full."

"The tank itself is not full," repeated Malleron. "As I understand this highly technical matter, the indicator will lead the young man to believe that he can easily fly the 200 miles to the coast, whereas, in point of fact, his journey will fail at the end of, roughly, 50 miles. I beg you to enlighten my ignorance a little further. What will happen when the petrol has become exhausted?"

"It would depend on what height he was flying," he answered hoarsely. "And several other things. At worst, he will crash. At best, he will have to land on his floats—in the sea. The first bit of rough weather will wreck him. And his chances of being picked up at that point are practically nil."

"Dear me! This is most distressing."

Jabez Malleron glanced searchingly at the young man's averted face. He was, he knew, on delicate ground. Discipline was the very essence of the huge organization. He was a shrewd enough man to know that his discipline, keen though it was, would not stand the strain of murder.

"We may take it that his death is a practical certainty," said Malleron. "Their eyes met. For a second the young man's eyes had shown relief. Beresford was wavering and Malleron instantly decided upon a subtle attack."

"I perceive that you are at this moment in a somewhat difficult position, Beresford," cried the other. "How the devil do I come into it?"

"Because his death makes you safe. You'll be glad when he's dead. And you're afraid to admit it to yourself."

"I—I—" faltered Beresford. "I'm not trying to make it harder for you, Beresford," continued Malleron. "I'm trying to help you with a little common sense and a little common honesty. You'll find it easier if you're honest with yourself at this moment and face the facts. When I gave you that chart the other day which I got under a judge's orders, from his bank, your hand trembled as you made the copy. You were afraid. You were quite right to be—you knew the danger. When you knew that I had induced the authorities to accept the copy of this chart—when I had destroyed the real chart—you could not conceal your sense of relief. This morning it was you yourself who impressed upon me the danger of ever allowing him to escape from us. Although you did not seem to realize what you were saying, you told me in effect that our organization would be in the most acute danger as long as that young man was alive. I tell you now that in a few minutes he will probably be dead—and you strike a moral attitude."

Reproductions of Paris Originals

The Quaintness of Yesterday... side by side with the daring of Tomorrow.

Tobe (our style consultant and a fashion authority in America and Europe) chose seventy-five frocks at the Paris openings—to exhibit in her own New York Revue. Our stylists in turn selected twenty of the most exclusive models for Rich's... and Tuesday Fashion Day presents them... culled by Tobe as eminently suited to America, re-culled by our own fashion mentors as pre-eminently suited to Atlanta.

Sketched left is a reproduction of Patou's "Tomorrow" in dahlia crepe... classically Greek in draping—a daring presage to the embryonic beauty of the future, $89.50.

In the shadows, side by side with "Tomorrow" stands yesterday... a quaint costume of the 80's... mirroring the fluid lines and trailing fabrics of 1929.

A QUEER-LOOKING CATERPILLAR.

There's something new to see each day. And always it will be that way.

—Old Mother Nature.

Peter Rabbit had started for home. He was thinking about all he had learned about Thalesa, the insect whom he had first mistaken for a wasp. "My," said Peter to himself, "there are some wonderful things in the world! Yes, indeed, there are some wonderful things in the world. I didn't half realize it until I saw Thalesa drill a hole in the trunk of a tree to lay her eggs. I don't believe I'll ever see anything as wonderful as that again. Hello! What under the sun is that?

Peter took a step nearer, to look more closely.

Peter stopped short and stared at a curious thing crawling across the path right in front of him. He knew it must be a caterpillar, but never before had he seen one like it. This caterpillar was of good size, green in color, and had what looked like a horn on the rear end of its body. He had seen just such caterpillars before, excepting that they never had anything on their backs, while this one carried a backload. Its back was covered with what looked like little white eggs standing on end and close together. Peter took a step nearer to look more closely.

"Well," said he, "I seen a lot of queer-looking caterpillars in my time, but never one as queer as this one. I wonder what kind of a caterpillar it is."

The caterpillar paid no attention to Peter. It continued across the path and began to climb a plant. It was only just above Peter's head and right where he could watch it. So he sat down to see what would happen. The caterpillar went right on eating. Apparently it had no business in all the great world excepting to eat. It ate and ate and ate. Watching it, Peter grew hungry.

"I think I'll go and have a bite myself," said Peter. "That fellow can't travel far if he wants to travel, and I don't believe he does. He'll be here when I get back."

So away went Peter, lippety-lippety, in search of something to eat. When he had filled his stomach he went back to where he had left the caterpillar. The caterpillar was still there and was still eating. Peter sat down and made himself comfortable. He couldn't have explained just why he wanted to watch that caterpillar. It was simply that he had a feeling inside that there was a mystery here

GUARD THE DANGER LINE

DISEASED teeth and gums are not only unsatisfactory, but they may even cause rheumatism, nervous, heart and kidney disorders. Don't neglect your teeth and gums.

Your dentifrice should clean and polish your teeth and also protect against acids. For food particles are constantly fermenting and forming acids in the remote crevices about the teeth. That is why teeth frequently decay even with careful brushing. Especially along The Danger Line, that vital, delicate margin of tissue, where gums meet teeth—and along which are countless tiny crevices.

Squibb's Dental Cream is made with 50% Squibb's Milk of Magnesia—enough to reach every crevice and render acids harmless. The regular use of Squibb's furnishes vital protection to teeth and gums... to health and beauty. It guards The Danger Line! For Milk of Magnesia is acknowledged the safest, most effective antacid.

Squibb's Dental Cream contains no grit, no harsh astringents. It is soothing and delightfully flavored. Ideal for children. A tube is only 40c at any drug store.

"Bill,
you'll start the game Saturday"

So easy to make the team! But athletic coaches know that Foremost milk is the kind that is made for growing boys who are underweight and need to get more energy. There is red blood, firm muscle and real power in Foremost as in no other food.

Well-cared-for, sleek herds produce Foremost milk. In gleaming white dairies it is tested for quality, freshness and purity. All that does not meet the strict standard of inspection, is rejected. To make it doubly safe against all harmful germs, it is pasteurized in accordance with U. S. Government recommendations.

Whether a boy is trying to make the football team or a good high mark in school—a quart of Foremost milk a day will get him to his goal quicker than any other food.

At the better grocery stores—look for the word Foremost—on the bottle top.

THE coach looked the boy over. "I didn't think you had either the weight or the strength to make the regular team," he said. "Looks different now, though. You've certainly shown in practice that you're strong enough to stand the bumps of the game. Been following the training-table diet I gave you?"

"Yes, Sir! I drank a glass of Foremost milk with every meal and one in between meals whenever I was hungry. I feel fine now!"

CAPTAIN REPORTS TWO SAILORS DEAD IN GULF HURRICANE

Tampa, Fla., October 12.—(AP)—Two sailors swept from the deck of the Seaboard oil barge Tioleone, during the tropical blow in the Gulf of Mexico were drowned, Captain F. Schneider, of the tanker, who arrived here, reported.

They were C. L. Donnelly, of Fort Lauderdale, and Clyde B. Boyle, of Sweetwater, Texas. The captain explained that the pair had launched a lifeboat and put it in readiness for the five others aboard, but a giant wave capsized the skiff and carried off the sailors.

"The sea began getting rough Friday," said the officer. One barge broke adrift Saturday afternoon and our towline snapped Sunday as the tug's engine failed. Our boat leaked badly and our pumps failed. I never saw it rain and blow so hard.

"That afternoon we launched the boat, prepared to abandon the ship. A big breaker overtook the lifeboat and washed away the sailors. We threw them lifebelts but without success. Later the boat was smashed against the hull, but we saw nothing more of the missing. Later we got the pumps going and, finding out the Tioleone and its sister barge, the Lubwell, were brought here for service in eight fathoms of water, let go our anchors."

Inspection and soon will continue their voyage around the Florida coast to Miami.

Broken Treasures - Restored

EVERY HOUSE has some broken treasures, or some treasures that might as well be broken, because they are never used.

There's the wrist watch that you cherish but never wear, because it needs cleaning; the necklace whose setting is out of date, but whose semi-precious stones are very much the vogue; your favorite bar-pin, unused because of its broken clasp; and some rings, perhaps, whose stones need re-setting to the latest fashion.

Just a little work on our part, and a slight cost on yours, will give you a new choice of jewelry to match your different costumes. Why not start a treasure hunt right in your own home, and gather together the objects of value which a little careful attention can restore to beauty and usefulness?

Then won't you bring them in to us for our suggestions on repairing, adjusting, polishing or making over? Our advice will be given gladly, without obligation.

49th Annual Convention Cheers Mention of MacDonald.

Toronto, Ont., October 7.—(P)—Representatives of organized labor bodies all over the United States, assembling today with fraternal representatives of the Canadian and British labor movements opened the forty-ninth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor. Two brief sessions allowed the formalities of organization, of committee appointments, and the acceptance of annual reports.

William Green, president, brought most of his big audience to its feet when he digressed in the course of response to the welcoming speeches to mention the Washington visit of Ramsay MacDonald, British premier. The labor spokesman declared he reprobated the unanimous sentiment of labor organizations in "wishing Premier MacDonald God-speed on his mission," which he declared to have the purpose of "establishing instrumentalities of peace," and bring about "freedom from war and human waste that labor has always opposed." The applause which followed gave the gathering its most animated moment of the day.

Two full stops of a day in a convention procedure have been arranged, one for next Wednesday, when delegates will be the guests of the Ontario provincial government in a visit to Niagara Falls and the other one week later, when Premier MacDonald is scheduled to visit Toronto on his return from Washington.

ARKANSAS JUDGE ORDERS INQUIRY AT STATE PRISON

Pine Bluff, Ark., October 7.—(P)—A thorough investigation of activities at the state prison farm in Jefferson county and particularly of three recent incidents was ordered by Circuit Judge T. G. Farham in his charge to the county grand jury today.

Attention was directed especially to the escape last Saturday of George Perry, convicted bank robber; of the killing of Warden George Goelzer last April and of the death a few weeks ago of Walter Maxwell, a convict, which was listed by prison officials as a suicide.

Perry was serving a term of 14 years for participation in the robbery of the Peoples bank here last April. He escaped from the Wright place prison camp on a horse.

In asking an investigation of the Goelzer killing Judge Farham said he had heard reports that Emory Taylor, a convict, who is charged with the slaying, was not guilty.

Sugar in the diet aids in consuming fats instead of letting the body absorb them and take on weight

The muscles are the fire-box of the body. It is in the muscles that sugar is burned to supply the body with heat and energy. To be sure, it is not the original sugar that is being consumed but the inverted or digested form of it.

Of all the fuels consumed in the body, sugar is the most easily burned and absorbed. Consider this when you are tempted to avoid sugar on the grounds that it will make you fat.

Fat in the body is completely burned only when sugar or starch is also being burned. This stage of digestion prevents acidosis. Thus the importance of sugar in the diet is readily seen. Not only does it supply heat and energy but it helps consume the fat taken into the system.

Desserts such as puddings, ice cream and custards, containing fresh or condensed milk, belong in every normal diet. Jellies and jams should also be eaten. Certainly candies or cakes at the end of a meal are an ideal dessert in themselves.

Sugar should also be used in the diet as a seasoning for the foods which are essential for good health. Vegetables which are flat or unappetizing take on a delightful flavor when they have been prepared with a dash of sugar. Sprinkle sugar on cereals or grapefruit and you will enjoy them much more. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

"Good food promotes good health"

To date, the outstanding individual performance of a sophomore halfback in the conference was turned in Saturday night by "Shipwreck" Kelly, the lanky speed marvel of the University of Kentucky eleven, in the opener with Maryville.

"Shipwreck" ran 40 yards from scrimmage for a touchdown the first time he carried the ball. The second time they called his signal he ran 18 yards for a touchdown. A few moments later he sliced off tackle and cutback for 71 yards and a touchdown.

Then Coach Gamage took him out for a rest. He was returned to the game in the third quarter and dashed 16 yards for a fourth touchdown, then sent to the showers.

Until some kid ties that record, "Shipwreck" can occupy the throne.

THEY ALL NEED HELP.

Do not imagine for a moment that Kelly was all alone on his jaunts. He had to have a line in front of him in which every man performed his block. He had to have backfield mates to cut down ends and backers-up. They gave him the start and of course he finished.

Behind nearly every long run for touchdown from scrimmage, always be sure that there was a well executed team movement carried on far into the secondary.

If you imagine that halfbacks can proceed under their own power, try removing their rush line as an experiment. The greatest sidestepper in the business cannot get to first base.

HOW TO DO IT.

"Shipwreck" Kelly spent the summer firing a coal-burning cattle ship that made regular trans-Atlantic trips, they say. That is the toughest sort of physical labor under miserable conditions.

Far beneath the waterline of the ship, swinging a "banjo" full of coal high up into a tiny firebox door, moving steadily for four hours is torturing exercise. Yet in the swinging of that shovel of coal into the little door one develops a rhythm of movement that must be invaluable in more pleasant forms of exercise.

If "Shipwreck" goes on running for touchdowns, that sort of summer training would be recommended, provided the athlete could stand the gaff.

NOT AS BAD AS THAT.

William Howard Taft, chief justice, believes there is a menace to our colleges in what he calls "Million Dollar Football" and talks solemnly of the peril in the November Cosmopolitan.

"Scholarship has been pushed aside and dwarfed by a super-importance that has been given to athletics in the stadium overshadows the classroom," Mr. Taft says.

Now if such were the case Tech, Vanderbilt, Tulane, North Carolina and a few other southern universities would have better football teams. There were enough good men in our neighborhood to possess of their eligibility this season on account of scholastic deficiencies to have helped their eleven no little.

Mr. Taft's charge has a weight of truth, but is not applicable in every instance. The trend in athletics is toward higher scholarship standards, not lower.

CHAMPION ONE-MAN OFFENSE.

Answering one of these ginger-ale glass arguments: Bill Pappenheimer carried the ball 33 times in the 55 times the Aggies rushed the ball from scrimmage. He averaged 3 yards per try and lost only 7 yards. That is about as nearly a one-man offense as ever was seen in Atlanta.

THE ENDS HAVE IT.

Tom Jones in three gallops averaged 35 yards. Ends who catch passes have it all over backs in opportunity for stepping off chalk lines. Three or four yards is a fine average for a halfback.

PETE M'ALLISTER.

Another strong man has fallen: Note in Cliff Mosier's column, Miami Daily News, says: "Pete McAllister, who talks five men's work in the composing room, holds the amateur Yo-yo championship of Miami. He says that timing and change of pace, not power, does it. Pete over a six furlong track can keep one in the air for a full union day."

TARHEEL CLAN PREPARES.

North Carolina people, confident that the university has the best football team in a decade, are coming to Atlanta Friday by thousands.

It will be the greatest exodus of Tarheel fans in history they say.

The double attraction of their own chance to swat the Yellow Jacket and celebrate next day by watching Yale and Georgia in Athens will help make the biggest second-game crowd in Flats history.

THE COACHING MIND.

Yale coaches were dissatisfied with their team's showing Saturday in beating Vermont 89 to 0. And still they say civilization is advancing.

ADVANCING BACKWARDS

Vermont by the way has set some sort of season record. They had 166 points scored on them in their first two games. Reads like the record of an English heavyweight boxer.

CHEESE ON RYE.

Overheard at a department store soda counter. "What is this conference football they write so much about, Minnie?"

"Dearie, it has got something to do with the huddle system or something."

Chicago, October 7.—(AP)—The Professional Golfers Association championship tournament will be held at the Hillcrest Club of Los Angeles December 2 to 7 inclusive, the executive committee of the Professional Golfers Association of America announced tonight through its president, Alex Pirie. Pirie's statement said the $10,000 prize money had been guaranteed by Joseph M. Schenck, motion picture producer. Rail fare one way will be paid by the golfers' association.

Maxie Schmeling Snoots New York

New York, October 7.—(United News)—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, will not fight in New York this winter, his American representative, Joe Jacobs, said today. "If Schmeling fights any place during the indoor season, it will be against Tuffy Griffiths at Chicago in December or January, provided Griffiths defeats Paulino on November 18."

Tarheels' Strength Upsets Yellow Jacket Plans ROOT TO START FOR CUBS

TARHEEL TEAM UPSETS PLANS AT THE FLATS

Jackets Must Point for Friday Game Instead of Florida.

By Ralph McGill.

Coach William A. Alexander, The Man at the Flats, is in a fix.

When the schedule was arranged it was thought that it would be possible to take the Mississippi Aggies and the North Carolina Tarheels in stride. And be ready for Florida.

The Tech eleven had to bust a hame string to beat the Aggies. And now the anxious chant of the serious thinkers has it that the Tarheels will take the Jackets and shatter a record of some years' standing.

Coach Alexander is in this sort of a fix. If his Jackets, ragged as a steamfitter's nails in the Aggie game, win from the Tarheels it will be possible to indict a panegyric to the glorious victory. If the Tarheels kick the Jackets rudely in the head of the pants and take the football game it will be perfectly in order to sit down and write of the expected.

That sort of a fix is not a good fix to be in. It is conducive to pains in the neck and indigestion.

"One Game for 'Feel'."

Tech, however, will bound forward considerably this week. It requires at least one game for a team to get the "feel" of the game. North Carolina salivated the Maryland eleven in the second game of the year. Their punching changed along with much more alacrity and assurance than it did in taking Wake Forest, the opening punching base number.

Maryland lost by 42 points. Which means nothing. Once a team is as many as three touchdowns behind it sees the others go by in a sort of daze. The Jackets were dressed down with caustic yesterday afternoon. In their Monday practice they heard summarized all the faults of the Saturday game.

Air Defense Poor.

Tech's defense against passes was poor in the Aggie game. The wing-backs were largely at fault. Two of the wing-backs, in the play while the pass attack was succeeding, were sophomores.

North Carolina scouts will be busy teaching the Tarheels the defense for the Tech passes. There is no real defense against a pass attack which is launched by real power. Earl Duntlap will complete some of his passes. The Tarheels will come to the Flats a slight favorite. It is the first time in quite a spell that any visiting team has been favored to win.

GAME MOVED UP.

Tech's contest with the Tarheels on Friday to clear the way for the big Yale-Georgia show at Athens on Saturday. The Clemson Tigers and the Wolfpack of North Carolina State meet at Florence. S. C. Cody's eleven is the favorite. It will be the fourth game for the Tigers. Florida plays Auburn. Friday night at Montgomery. It will be a nocturnal contest. When the frost is on the fender the dew will be on the foot ball.

The big show at Athens, of course, holds the spotlight. The Bulldogs from Yale are favored to beat the Bulldogs from Athens, where they will be quite a contest in the new Sanford bowl. The Bulldogs from Athens will be out there dying for Georgia and Yale will be suffering from the heat and wondering why they ever left the shade of the elms at New Haven.

Other conference teams will be dying for their alma maters on Saturday while Georgia is meeting Yale. There are five intra-conference contests scheduled for Saturday.

MISS. VS. OLE MISS.

Tennessee meets the twice-defeated Mississippi eleven at Knoxville. The Ole Miss eleven will not defeat any team which has enough football gumption to stop an attack that is directed at one spot. Pick the Vols. They are smart enough to stop the Ole Miss attack.

The Generals from Washington and Lee meet the Kentucky Wildcats in which should be one of those hectic affairs. It looks like an even sort of contest.

The Aggies take on Tulane and the Green Wave, having submerged the Texas Aggies, should know enough about the agricultural situation to submerge the Mississippians.

SEAWAVE DUE FOR BUMP.

Sewanee is due to take one on the chin in their first venture into the conference waters. A 6-and-6 tie with Transylvania last week hardly sounds like a victory over Russ Cohen's L. S. U. eleven.

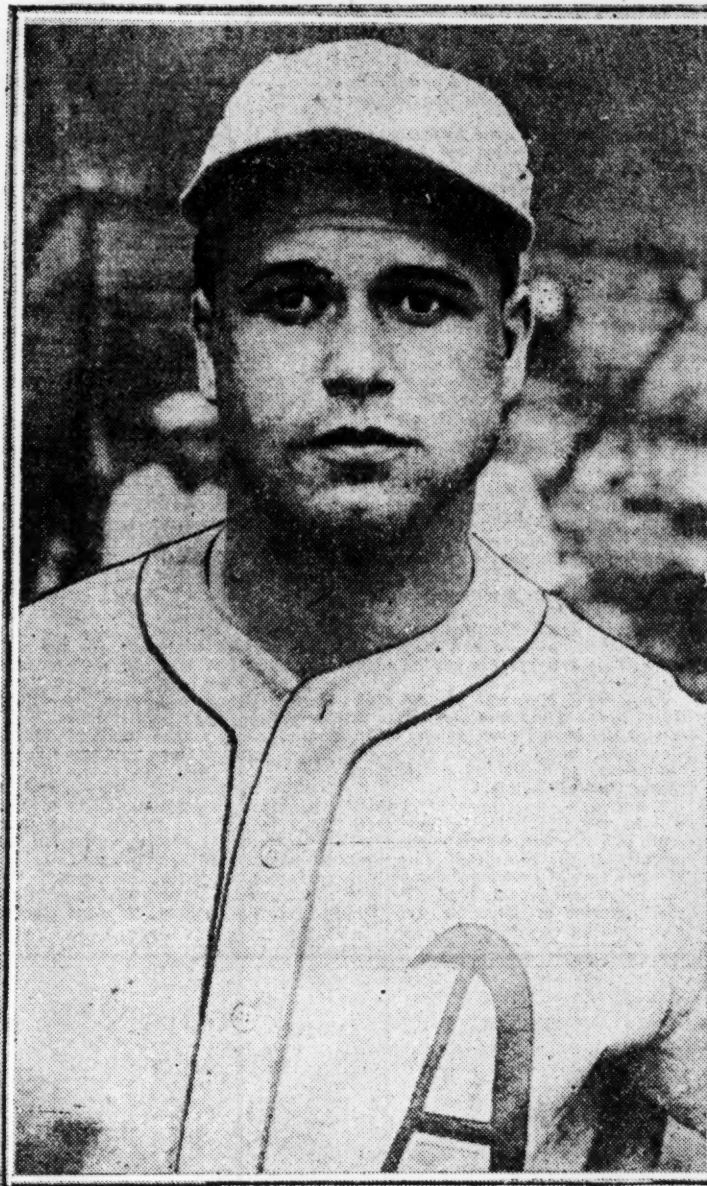

South Carolina and Maryland.

Scribes Storm Cub Press Box

Chicago, October 7.—(AP)—So great has been the demand for press seats for world series games to be played at Wrigley field, starting tomorrow, that the press box has been enlarged to accommodate 412 writers and telegraphers. Ninety-six telegraph wires have been strung into the press stand. These will be handled by 108 operators and supervisors. The booths from which six radio announcers will bark their accounts of the games, will be located in a section apart from the press box.

Rival Big Guns in Series Which Starts Today

Young Jimmy Foxx, left, slugging first baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics, will be one of the men most watched in the world series which opens today at Chicago. At the right is Rogers Hornsby, the man who won a world's championship for the St. Louis Cardinals and who this season helped the Cubs to a flag. He and the youthful Foxx are expected to be brilliant stars in the fight to determine which team shall be champions of the world.

ROJAS-O'HARA FIGHT TONIGHT

Thirty-Two Rounds of Action on Auditorium Ring Card.

Thirty-two rounds of boxing will be offered on the fight card scheduled to go on at the auditorium tonight. The card features Paul Rojas and Brady O'Hara in the main event.

Eddie Hanlon, promoter, said last night that he had had all fighters on the card examined by a physician and that none of them were ill or hurt in any way. This will prevent any last-minute substitution such as injured the last show here.

The main bout, a ten-round fight, is billed as one of the most sensational encounters Atlanta has seen. Rojas, a Cuban who hasn't been in the racket long enough to learn the stalling ways of most fighters, has a great punch and a fine defense.

LIST OF VICTORIES.

Brady O'Hara, his opponent, holds victories over Willie Ptoomey, Joe Knight, Bob Godwin, Glenn Chaney and others. He refuses to be worried by Rojas' reputation as a fighter, but insists that he will take him.

The semi-windup brings together Spencer Carter and Marshall Cardwell. Carter is an Atlanta boy and a fighter. Cardwell is a LaGrange product.

The two preliminary bouts of six rounds each will bring four well-known boys of lighter weights into action.

PUBLIC WORKOUTS.

The entire card has been working in public. The final preparations for the fights were made yesterday afternoon with light workouts in the up-town gymnasiums.

Interest in the fight has been growing since the Rojas-O'Hara fight was announced. "I know the fans were disappointed last week," said Eddie Hanlon, promoter, "but so was I. This week I have taken the precaution to see that each fighter was in shape and well before I signed him for the card. I have kept a daily check on their training so that I would know whether they were injured or not. They are all in good shape. I believe this fight card will be the most interesting one ever offered here. The main bout will be a fight and not a boxing match."

"I will match the winner of the fight with Goodrich if possible. If not I will keep on until I find a suitable opponent for him. There will be more boxing shows in Atlanta. I am making an honest effort to put on good shows and I believe the public will appreciate it in the end. This show is a real one."

The first bout will go on at 8:30 o'clock. Prices have been cut.

Hard Work.

New York, October 7.—N. Y. U. got down to work today in direct preparation for New York's own big contest, the Fordham-N. Y. U. game Saturday. The teams are rated about on a par, with the Violets possibly holding a scant margin.

Sleeping Giant Shows Signs of Awakening

Auburn Made Unusually Fine Showing Against Clemson—Made Most First Downs.

By Ralph McGill.

An old ghost, lying in the ditches of defeat these several years, is about to come back to the football banquet table like Banquo's ghost and startle the guests.

That sleeping giant down at Auburn yawned Saturday. There is no telling whether the giant will awaken this fall or not. But it won't be longer than next season, before the big eleven is stalking into the room occupied by the conference leaders. And maybe not that long.

Now that all the returns are in from the Clemson-Auburn football game last Saturday, won by Clemson, 26 to 7, there are some startling figures revealed.

HEADS-UP GAME.

The Auburn Tiger made 15 first downs to 11 for Clemson. Clemson's running attack was stopped. Clemson's backfield had to resort to an attack to upset the Auburn eleven. And in the third quarter, 19 points behind, the Plainsmen halted the air and running game. Not only that but they bore their way twice to the 14-yard line.

Auburn played an alert, heads-up football game. They intercepted passes and they grounded punts deep in Clemson's territory. Auburn completed nine passes for 109 yards. Hatfield and Chapelle are two brilliant backs. The Plainsmen have the ammunition. As soon as they awaken they will slay some Goliath of the Gridiron as sure as gun is iron.

Your Uncle Dan McGugin, of the Vanderbilt Commodores, and Nash Higgins, of Florida, watched the Auburn eleven at work. Nash Higgins spoke right out for publication. He was not as hopeful as Bill Webster, who scouted Georgia. Bill Webster said Yale would be satisfied with three or four touchdowns. Nash Higgins said Florida would be tickled to win by one lone touchdown. Which is 1 to 0.

FLORIDA GAME.

Florida meets Auburn Friday night at Montgomery. Dale Van Sickle will be out of the Florida lineup. Florida was extended last week to beat the Auburn eleven. Florida was out of something or other to hint that Auburn may upset the Gators. Vanderbilt meets the Auburn eleven a week later at Nashville. Nash Higgins probably be a loud guffaw were it to be suggested that the Commodores might be trampled by the Tigers.

Yet the Tigers are going to take some team over the jumps ere long. Your Uncle Dan McGugin is a very astute gentleman at diagnosing a football team. He knows one when he sees it. "I have profound respect for Auburn," he said after watching the Tigers fight Auburn.

Auburn has the potential power. They have the arms in the arsenal. Some day they will begin shooting. And when they do it will be too bad. The Tiger is about to wake up.

G. I. A. A. ELECTS NEW PRESIDENT

Duncan, of Savannah, Selected to Succeed R. K. White.

James A. Duncan, of Savannah, Ga., was elected president Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. at the annual meeting of the Georgia Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Major Douglas Woodward, of G. M. A., was elected vice president, and S. K. Tanner, of Lanier High, of Macon, was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

Frank Anderson, athletic director of Oglethorpe University, was elected arbiter, succeeding Herman J. Stegeman, of Georgia.

One of the most important matters taken up at the meeting was a division of the association members into a northern and southern group. The arbitrator will select two football teams from the northern division to play each other and two teams in the southern group to play, and the winners meet to determine the state championship.

Committee Named.

A committee composed of R. K. White, of Norman Institute, retiring president, as chairman, and W. O. Cheney, of Tech High, and E. A. Tanner, of Ninth District A. & M., was named to formulate plans for promotion of baseball, track, golf, tennis, swimming and other sports not considered as major sports.

Eligibility of athletes occupied a large portion of the time and it was unanimously decided to appoint a committee of D. J. Barron, of Monroe, H. R. Ritz, of G. M. C. and S. K. Tanner, of Lanier, to adopt eligibility blanks. Eligibility is covered thoroughly in the association constitution but the blanks will be adopted as a standard in conformity with the rules.

Teams in the northern division are: Tech High, Boys' High, G. M. A., Fulton High, Riverside, University School for Boys, Monroe Aggies, Ninth District A. & M., Newman and Madison A. & M.

Southern Teams.

Teams in the southern division are: Lanier, Columbus, G. M. C., Norman Institute, Savannah, Gordon, LaGrange, Ninth District A. & M., of Barnesville. Schools represented at the meeting were: W. O. Cheney, Tech High; R. L. Doyal, Boys' High; G. W. Hodges, University School; H. S. Burdett, LaGrange; S. K. Tanner, Lanier; J. A. Duncan, Savannah; D. L. Barron, Monroe Aggies; Sam Beaver, Riverside; R. K. White, Norman Institute; Douglas Woodward, G. M. A.; A. M. Bowen, Newman; Wallace Butts, Eighth District A. & M.

Griffin was voted a member of the association and will be a member of the northern division.

Vigorous Drill.

Princeton, N. J., October 7.—(United News)—Princeton's varsity football squad was done out of its customary Monday rest today when Coach Bill Roper ordered a vigorous sign drill. Paul Carey, whose shoulder was injured in the Amherst game, is expected to be available for the Brown contest.

MACK SILENT ON SELECTION IN FIRST GAME

Wrigley Field Awaits Storm of Fans at Opening Today.

By Alan Gould,

Associated Press Sports Editor, Chicago, October 7.—(AP)

To the accompaniment of all the tumult and shouting that goes with America's annual baseball carnival, the boys will go out on the firing line tomorrow to substitute fast balls and base hits for oratory and argument in the battle for the 1929 championship of the world.

The Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago Cubs, rivals again for the richest of the game's prizes after a lapse of 19 years, come to grips in the opening game, with fair weather and a spectacular fight expected from the outset between two fast, hard-hitting and aggressive ball clubs.

Unless there is a last-minute switch, Charley Root, foremost finger of the National league, will pitch for the Cubs against big George Earnshaw, of the A's, in a struggle between fast-ball right-handers.

ROOT PICKED.

Root was definitely selected today by Manager Joe McCarthy as the opening game choice over Pat Malone, another rugged, right-hander. Connie Mack, 67-year-old chairman of the A's, kept his twirling secrets to himself on arrival this afternoon with his team but the experts considered Earnshaw the logical choice. There was, however, the prospect that Mack might switch to Robert Moses Grove, his famous left-hander, or so far cross the line as to send either old Bill Klem, dean of the National league staff, or Howard Ehmke to the box.

The full-throated roar of 50,000 fans is expected to resound in Wrigley field for the opening game of the series that furnishes the climax to the greatest baseball season Chicago has ever known.

So keen was the enthusiasm that hundreds of fans were in line tonight outside the park, prepared for the all-night vigil before the bleacher seats go on sale around 8 a. m. tomorrow. Scores had begun to hold their posts more than 24 hours before Empire Bill Klem, dean of the National league staff, cries "Let's go!" at 1:30 p. m.

SELL OUT.

All reserved seats have been sold, with speculators having difficulty doing any substantial business, even at such fancy prices as $50 for a single game ticket. The first day of the season, as well as for the second game here, is expected to exceed $200,000, with a million-dollar series assured if the issue goes only five games.

Pre-game developments today aside from the pouring of fans, officials and notables, centered chiefly about the late ticket market. At the Chicago office of the Athletics, the definite selection of Root to pitch for the Cubs and a tendency to shorten the odds, which have made the American league champions favorites from the start.

Wagers, hitherto largely based on quotations of 7 to 5 on the A's, dropped to around 6 to 5 with a rally in the night. Because of the uncertainty over the A's initial pitching choice, the opening game betting was mostly "even money and take your pick."

Root is declared to be in prime condition for the getaway. The 30-year-old right-hander, who came in the baseball ranks 10 years ago from the rolling hills of Middletown, Ohio, has a world of stuff, speed and a "wrinkle ball" that he made famous in winning 26 games for the Cubs in 1927. That his speed was supposed to have sapped Root's stamina. He had an off year in 1928 but came back brilliantly this year to finish strongly with a record of 19 victories against 6 defeats.

AVOIDS BAD INNING.

Root at times has had an unhappy tendency to experience one bad inning in games in which his pitching otherwise has been unblemished. He hopes to avoid this jinx tomorrow, for an inning's outbreak might very well be quite enough for the slugging act led by Al Simmons, Jimmy Foxx and Mickey Cochrane to do decisive damage.

Pat Malone, the iron man who turned in 22 victories for the Cubs, is booked for the white elephant taming job in the second game. Guy Bush probably will pitch the third game for the Cubs, scheduled in Philadelphia Friday.

The Cubs place lots of reliance in these right-handers, but it is no secret they depend chiefly for victory on the war clubs of Hornsby, Wilson, Cuyler and Stephenson, the "big four," who battered about everything in sight during the National league race. The power in the Chicago attack, plus the club's fighting spirit and ability to come from behind to win, is its chief asset.

MANY SHARPshooters.

The A's have plenty of sharpshooters to offset the big Cub offensive, regardless of how the veteran Mack rotates his staff, and a spark plug to back them up in Cochrane, baseball's outstanding catcher. If Earnshaw starts the first game, Grove is likely to go out in the second to settle the much discussed matter of his effectiveness against the formidable right-handed Cub lineup.

Both teams, on the whole, enter the series in good condition. Such recent Cub casualties as Shortstop English, Catcher Taylor and First Baseman Grimm all are in shape to start. Bing Miller, veteran rightfielder of the A's, was suffering from a heavy cold on arrival today and had some temperature, but a National rest was expected to put him in condition for the opener.

The Cubs went through an hour's batting and fielding drill at Wrigley field this noon, sharpening their hitting eyes against both right and left.

Huntsville Trap Star Tops Field in Annual Indian Shoot Here

MRS. WRIGHT IS HIGHEST AMONG WOMEN

Atlantans Place Well On First Day of Big Event.

Paul Williams, of Huntsville, Ala., a newcomer in southern trapshooting circles, won highest honors Monday at the Atlanta Gun Club traps in the annual Southern Indian Shoot. Williams broke 196 out of 200 singles targets from the 16-yard line the first day. The shoot will last three days.

Second place honors went to John Kress, the "Boaring Governor" of Knoxville, Tenn., who broke 195 out of 200 singles. J. P. Pullian, of Atlanta, won third place with 192 and H. E. Johnson, of Haines City, Fla., was fourth with 191. J. Durden, of Statesboro, Ga., another new shooter, broke 189 out of 200 and won fifth place. Durden had to travel by auto, boat and train in order to get here, due to the high water in southeast Georgia.

MRS. WRIGHT WINS.

Mrs. J. C. Wright, an Atlanta woman, won highest honors for women with 181 out of 200 singles. In the preliminary doubles R. C. Coffey, of Prairie City, Iowa, won highest honors with 45 out of a possible 50. Second place was shared between Dr. J. C. Wright and Charles Rountree, of Atlanta. Fourth place was won by J. C. Pullian, making it unanimous for Atlantans with the exception of first place.

The annual Indian championship, consisting of 200 singles from the 16-yard line, will be the feature on today's program. In addition to the 200 singles, the first half of the annual doubles championship program will be fired. There will be 25 pairs of doubles on the preliminary program.

TODAY'S LINEUP.

Today's shooting will start at 9 o'clock and will continue until all the shooters have completed their singles and doubles rounds.

The attendance Monday was not up to its standard, due to the high water in south and east Georgia. A much larger crowd is expected for today and word was received Monday night that several well-known trap shooters are en route here.

A meeting of the classification committee was held late Monday afternoon and winners of the various classes were announced as follows: Class A, H. E. Johnson, of Haines City, Fla., 191 out of 200. Runner-up honors went to H. E. Rountree, of Egypt, Ga., with 181 out of 200. Paul Williams, of Huntsville, Ala., fifth gun Monday, won Class B honors with 196 out of 200. J. A. Kreis, of Knoxville, Tenn., won second honors with 192 out of 200.

J. P. Pullian, of Atlanta, won Class C honors with 192 out of 200, and W. B. Bechtold, of Tampa, Fla., won second place honors with 185. Mrs. J. C. Wright and her husband, Dr. J. C. Wright, won both places in Class D. Mrs. Wright's score was 181, while her husband took second place with 179.

Tenn. Women Open Tourney

Nashville, Tenn., October 7.—(AP)—Approximately 40 entries have been received for the Tennessee state women's championship golf tournament, the qualifying rounds of which starts tomorrow at the Belle Meade Country Club.

Mrs. M. Rainey, of Chattanooga, the state woman's champion, will defend her title which she won last year from Mrs. J. S. Kirkpatrick, present city champion of Nashville. Another city champion entered is Mrs. L. Solomon, of Memphis, who won the Memphis title from Mrs. Dave Gaul, long prominent in Tennessee and southern golf.

Most of the entrants are from Chattanooga, Nashville, Knoxville, and Memphis. The first round starts Wednesday and the finals will be played Saturday.

Rollins Wins 1st Since '27

Winter Park, Fla., October 7.—(AP) Playing their first game under the tutelage of Coach Jack McDowell, former North Carolina State star, the Rollins college Tars today won their first game since 1927, turning back the South Georgia State eleven by a count of 12 to 6.

The Douglas (Ga.) outfit led at the half, 6 to 0, but a sweeping aerial offensive in the last half coupled with a sustained drive gave the Floridians two touchdowns and the margin of victory. Tommy Spencer, sophomore end of the Tars, provided the only feature when he snugged a pass in the third period, and raced 40 yards for Rollins' first touchdown.

The game marked the first of the season for Rollins. The team will leave Thursday for Tifton, Ga., where they will meet the South Georgia A. & M. eleven on Saturday.

meet at College Park. That is another tough one. Intercollegiate contests get going in full blast this week. The Yale-Georgia game tops the list in interest.

Vanderbilt leaves Thursday night for Minneapolis, where they will play Minnesota on Saturday. The Commodores will work in Chicago on Friday. GOPHERS FAVORED.

Vanderbilt defeated Minnesota in 1924 by a 16-0 score on the Saturday following the defeat of Red Grange and his Illinois eleven by the Gophers. Gil Reese, Tom Ryan and Hek Wakefield led the Commodores to victory that day. This year Gil Reese is selling bonds. So is Hek Wakefield. Tom Ryan is in the oil business. The Gophers figure to win by at least two tallies.

Virginia's rejuvenated Cavaliers will meet Swarthmore at Charlottesville, V. P. I. meets Penn at Philadelphia.

Games of lesser importance find Alabama meeting Chattanooga at Tuscaloosa, and V. M. I. getting in dangerous quarters with The Citadel. It will be quite a Saturday. The Atlantans have all the best of it. They will be able to see the North Carolina-Tech game Friday and the Yale-Georgia game on Saturday.

FOREIGN STARS TO RACE HERE

Fast Machines Will Run in Meet Over Lakewood Park Oval.

Three auto speed kings from Sweden, two from sunny Italy, an Erin lad, an English bench racer, a "flying Frenchman," and a group of speedway and dirt track boys from this country will tangle in the benzine battle of the week Thursday afternoon at Lakewood park track when the International Sweepstakes get under way in the Southeastern Fair auto races.

A tinge of Europe and a flavor of the speedways will be given to the sweepstakes race, which will be run in three heats, with each heat a race and a distance final for the qualifying cars and drivers from the earlier heats.

Norski Larson, Swede Anderson and Swan Peterson are entered from the Scandinavian belt, although there is some doubt if Peterson will be permitted to run. Only one of Swan's eyes is functioning and the doctor may not let Pete race.

Bonifite De Paulo and Joe Russo are from the land of De Palma and Resta, dead-heat Italian drivers with high-class foreign designed cars.

Glenn Price, the Englishman, from the land of Major Segrave, Captain Campbell and Don Kay. He will pilot a Detroit special to speedway fame. Jules De Rene is the Frenchman and he has been a big winner on American dirt tracks this year.

America's contribution to the prospective winning column includes George Lyons, George Young, Arch Powell and Jack Murray, from points south, east, west and north. The real Dixie belt has had very little representation in the entries to date, although Powell, a Florida driver, claims he can uphold the southern honors if necessary.

"Speedy" Goff, Birmingham speed merchant, is in town and expects to enter if he can get his car in shape for Thursday.

Louie Schneider, who became a national speed figure last year when he topped the second place honors at Indianapolis, is of German extraction but prefers to be dubbed a "Hoosier" rather than a "Heinie."

Schneider's appearance at Atlanta will be the first time he has raced south of Louisville, where he competed recently at the Kentucky State Fair in some special events. Anderson was the major winner at Louisville and has victories at Memphis and Des Moines to his credit.

Football Game Ends in Fight; Five Are Stabbed

Chicago, October 7.—(AP)—A football game between a team of white players and a team of negroes ended in a knife assault at a Maywood field yesterday. Five persons were stabbed, and one was beaten.

A decision by the referee angered one of the negroes, John Williams, who drew a knife and stabbed three players of the opposing team and two spectators. Williams fled, seeking escape in an automobile which was surrounded by several hundred persons when police arrived.

The condition of Jack Sharf, one of the players stabbed, was critical. Fred Knoll, another player, was severely beaten by supporters of the negro team, and he was in a serious condition today. The other injuries were slight.

Y.C.A.A. Picks Opening Teams

Capitol View Methodist and Alpha Class of Wesley Memorial Methodist were lucky teams of the girls' division of the Y-church Athletic Association as they drew the honor of playing the opening game of the 1929 season at the meeting held Monday night.

The following teams posted their franchise fees and await the opening games which will start the race for the Claude H. Bennett trophy to be presented the winner of the league race: Central Presbyterian, Central Baptist, Gordon Street Baptist, Western Heights Baptist, Inman Park Baptist, Associate Reform Presbyterian, Capitol View Methodist, Peachtree Christian and Alpha Class of Wesley Memorial.

This leaves an opening for one more team and any club desiring to enter should call the league secretary, Sarah Evans, Dearborn 0683. The following referees have been selected to officiate in all league games: Harold Bray, William Gage, William Walker and "Toke" Edwards.

With the practical completion of the preliminary work in the girls' division the completion of the four leagues to be operated by the boys' division will be pushed rapidly onward and their early completion can be expected. Another meeting of both divisions will be held at the Y. M. C. A. next Monday night.

TEXAS ELEVENS SET FOR CLASH

Southwest Teams Show Strength in Intersectional Clashes.

By Gayle Talbot.

Dallas, Texas, October 7.—(AP)—Having demonstrated the potency of its football in intersectional conflict, the Southwest conference will settle down this week to what it considers the more important matter of internal strife.

Texas and Arkansas will usher in the championship race Saturday at Fayetteville in a game which will vie for attention with the meeting of the Texas and Kansas Aggies here. Four other conference elevens, including the mighty Baylor Bears, delay another fortnight before mixing in the battle proper.

Saturday's conflict at Fayetteville promises to have an important bearing on the conference race. Both teams are strong and sentiment is evenly divided. Arkansas will be playing before a homecoming throng.

In its final test before playing for "keeps," Arkansas knocked over the Henderson-Brown Teachers eleven, 30 to 7. Texas finished its salad course with a 20-0 triumph over the Centenary Gentlemen from Shreveport, outplaying the Gentlemen all the way. The broken field running of Dexter Shelly in this game will make of him a marked man against Arkansas.

Coach Matty Bell's Texas Aggies will be favored to topple Bo McMullan's Kansas Aggies in the intersectional tilt here. The Bell eleven lost a tight verdict to the Tulane Green Wave, 13 to 10, at New Orleans Saturday but proved itself a powerful unit.

Bell and McMullan, rival coaches in the meeting of the two former elevens, played high school football together at Fort Worth and later contributed to the glory of the Praying Colonels of Centre college.

Returned from its scoreless tie with the Nebraska Cornhuskers at Lincoln, Southern Methodist university will take it easy this week. Coach Morrison's surprising young men will keep their hand in by playing Austin college here Friday.

Francis Schmidt's speedy Texas Christian eleven lived up to expectations Saturday by stopping Simmons University, 20 to 0. More will be known of the Christians' strength after they play Centenary Saturday at Shreveport.

Mack Excited As Schoolboy Over Series

Chicago, October 7.—(AP)—Connie Mack, with five world series behind him and no telling how many in front, was as excited as a schoolboy over the arrival of the sixth, after 15 years out of the second table of baseball. Rushed to his hotel with a flare of trumpets from the motorcycles of a police escort, Mr. Mack smiled broadly as hotel attaches assured him he was welcome in Chicago, even as an enemy.

Captain Eddie Collins, of the A's, one of the two former White Sox managers on the American league champions, remained "clam" as the ball players say, as the zero hour approached. To suggestions that the visitors might well have worked out at Wrigley field before the day of the series, he said, "We didn't work out in 1910 and we did very well in that series."

Picture of a golfer at a world series. George Von Elm, inquiring as to the weather forecast for tomorrow and saying that he had not touched a golf club in a month. "I'm a baseball fan now," he said. "I expect to see these two games here, go back to Detroit and come back for the others. Sure they'll come back here."

Dan Howley, Art Fletcher and Bob Connerly all went walking through the lobby of a hotel with five minutes. The three have been mentioned as possible managers of the Yankees. Dan proudly displayed a wrist watch presented by players of the St. Louis Browns on his retirement as manager.

Clarence Rowland, manager of Nashville, in the Southern association, admits that Cincinnati is a larger city than Nashville, but declares he has not been offered the job of managing the Reds.

W. G. Bramham, the only man in baseball who acts as a league president on a wholesale scale, is awaiting the start of the series. Mr. Bramham is president of the South Atlantic, Piedmont and Eastern Carolina leagues.

James Mack, of Chicago, was first in the bleacher line at Wrigley field, taking his position more than 24 hours before the dollar tickets were to be placed on sale. Mrs. Poncho Peters, Kennesaw, N. Y., was the first woman in line. She was with her husband. They have an unbroken record of world series attendance, dating from 1918.

ST. LOUIS SIGNS BILL KILLEFER

Assistant to Howley Is Given Job as Manager of Browns.

St. Louis, October 7.—(United News.)—Bill Killefer, St. Louis Browns' coach, signed a three-year contract today to manage the club, replacing Dan Howley, whose contract expired with the end of the 1929 season.

In announcing Killefer's appointment as manager of the Browns, President Phil Ball severely criticized Howley.

"We hope we have signed for the next three years," Ball's statement said, "a manager who will be loyal and not crucify his employer; whose head will have control of his tongue; who can say 'yes' and 'no' on a trade and not leave himself an 'out,' and who will enforce the necessary discipline. "He is William Killefer, Jr."

WRANGLING. It had been known for some time that Howley, who became manager of the Browns in 1927, would not return in 1930. Howley is said to have had frequent clashes this year with officials of the club over certain players. Ralph Kress, Browns' young shortstop, was one of the players involved in the wrangle. Howley was a staunch backer of Kress.

Under Howley the Browns finished seventh in 1927, third in 1928 and fourth in 1929.

Killefer was one of the leading catchers of the National league when he was Grover Cleveland Alexander's battery mate at Philadelphia. After two rejections with the St. Louis Cardinals he finally made the major league grade with the Phillies in 1911. He caught for the Phils until 1918, when he was traded to the Cubs along with Alexander for $55,000 and players.

MADE MANAGER. In 1921 Killefer was made manager of the Cubs. He held the job until 1925, when he was succeeded by Rube Marzelle. During his nearly five seasons as manager of the Cubs they finished in the first division only once—fourth in 1923.

Howley's plans are uncertain, but he is said to be dicker with several major league clubs for a manager's job. The New York Yankees are believed to have him under consideration as the late Miller Huggins' successor.

They can work more economically than just one plant alone. They can afford to make improvements, put in new equipment, exchange ideas and get the benefit of skillful dry cleaners. The service, already good, is being constantly improved. Now, having a garment dry cleaned means more than it used to mean. It means more real renewal service. In just one man's suit you find a dozen points to show how thorough and careful is this dry cleaning.

Interest in Chicago Reaches Fever Heat as Fans Seek Tickets

ODDS FAVORING MACKS DESPITE 'EDGE' OF CUBS

First Two Games on Home Field Give Chicago Advantage.

By Walter Trumbull.

Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.

Chicago, October 7.—Mrs. O'Leary's famous cow caused no more excitement in this city than the present world's series. Interest in the big baseball event has swept the town like fire. The wailing of those who are without tickets ascends to the sunny skies.

Wrigley park will hold some 55,000 spectators, but it will not begin to accommodate those who wish to see the opening game.

Mr. Wrigley, Mr. Veck and all those connected with the club, have locked their doors and disconnected their telephones. Mr. Heydler and Mr. Barnard, presidents of the two leagues, have gone into hiding. Even that valiant warrior, Judge Landis, has been observed skipping lightly from barricade to barricade, pursued by ticket applicants.

For some reason, which seems a bit strange, the Athletics have been made slight favorites in the betting. This is in spite of the fact that the Cubs play the first two games on their home grounds where they are at their best and have every advantage of position.

LESS STRAIN.
The strain will be a bit less severe on the home team. Its players will know every angle of the park, and the crowd will be rooting fiercely for home talent. There is no neutrality out here.

It is generally figured that McCarthy will start Root. One reason is that Root is considered a money pitcher and another is that he is strictly a side arm pitcher, which is an advantage on these grounds, as with this type of hurler the ball seems to come to the batter directly out of the crowd.

Malone is the second guess for the opening Chicago pitcher, but Malone lacks the steady fighting qualities of Root. Malone is a bit temperamental. When going well he is almost unbeatable but he sometimes is upset by an error or what he considers a bad decision on balls and strikes. Bush is the third pitcher upon whom the Cubs must largely depend.

HARD SELECTION.
Connie Mack's pitching selection is not so simple. Logically it seems to many that he should open with George Earnshaw, his great right-hander. It would appear so because the Cubs are not supposed to be as good against right-handers and because Earnshaw is strong enough to come back and pitch a second fine game.

If the Athletics won with Earnshaw, they could take a chance and perhaps pitch Jack Quinn in the second game, saving their two left-handers for the first two games on the home soil of Philadelphia. This looks like good strategy until you go a little deeper into the matter.

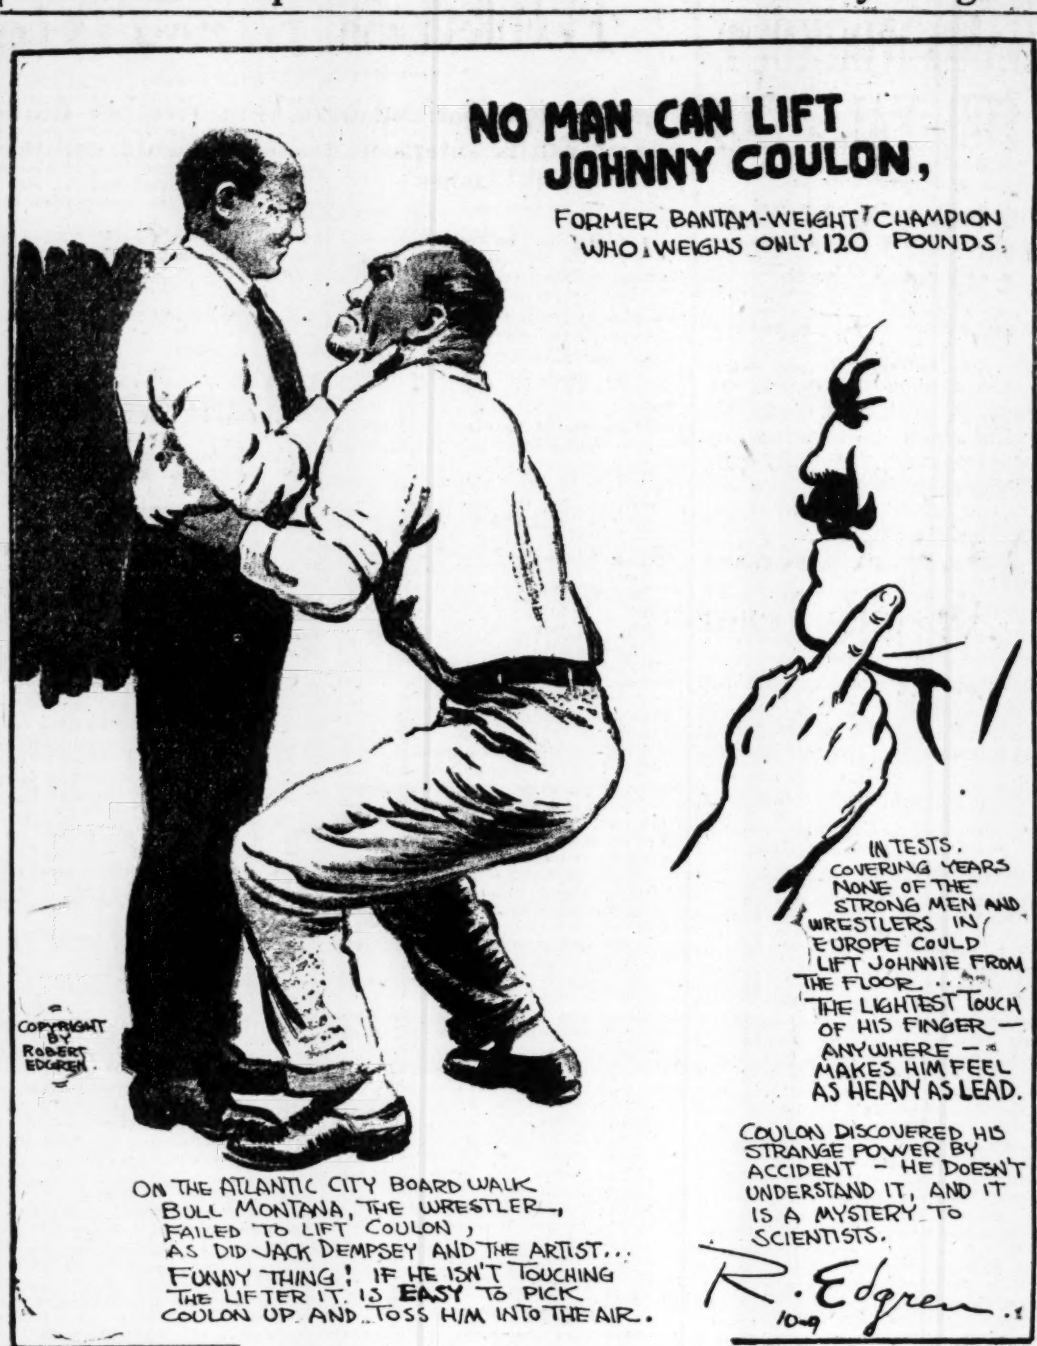

Grove, being a southpaw, is highly temperamental. If he thought that he was being slighted by not being permitted to open in the series, it might mean that he would pitch disgruntled ball when he was needed most.

Moreover, Grove in proper humor is likely to beat anybody, and if Mack could win the first game with a left hander it would give him a psychological edge. Earnshaw is likely to pitch well wherever he starts. Grove will not improve by being kept under tension. Connie has a lot to consider and must stand or fall by the result of his decision.

NO GUIDE POST.
The manner in which pitchers perform in a season is absolutely no guide to the manner in which they may perform in a series. Naturally, each manager must start by relying on the pitchers who won a flag for him, but before the games are over other pitchers may move solidly into the spotlight.

This series, like almost every other series, probably will be won and lost on pitching. And, as each team has at least three fine pitchers, I can not

Chicago, October 7.—(United News.)

Bill McKechie, former manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates and for a time this season manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, has signed a four-year contract to manage the Boston Braves.

President Emil Fuchs, of the Braves, announced tonight.

McKechie was understood to have been offered a contract to manage the Cardinals next year, but desired a longer term. When that failed to materialize he signed with Fuchs.

Salary was not announced.

Three Jims.

North Carolina's three passing lacks all have the name of Jim. They are Jim Ward, Jim Maus and Jim Magner.

See, before the first ball is pitched, that it is anything but an even bet. From an advance viewpoint, it looks as if Cochrane, Simmons, Dykes and Miller might be expected to do fine work for the Mackmen. I should say that Hornsby and Stinson would be the most dangerous men on the Cubs with Cuyler and Wilson also dangerous.

Cuyler is a great ball player. Wilson can field with any of the best and hits a ball fast and far. Like Fox of the Athletics, he is weak on a certain ball at the bat, but, if the pitchers fail to put the ball absolutely in that spot, either man is apt to smack it over the wall. It is a question of style and I believe that Wilson may be tough for pitchers of the type Connie Mack possesses.

Macks Most Placid Over Series Opening

Pegler Observes A's Have Been Champions So Long They Are Used to Hullabaloo.

By Westbrook Pegler.

Chicago, Ill., October 7.—Of course it is not to be expected that a team of major league ball players will tear around in narrowing circles, biting their finger nails as far back as their elbows and uttering shrill cries of excitement for three weeks to signify their excitement over a world series, but it does seem that the Philadelphia ball club is a bit more placid than the occasion warrants on this, the eve of their world series with the Cubs.

They arrived in Chicago shortly after noon, yawned ostentatiously in two counts and got into a train of large motor hacks of the kind furnished for the guests at fashionable burials which toiled them up town along the North Shore to the Edgewater Beach hotel.

A guard of police outriders on motorcycles went before them, emitting those mournful wails which with municipalities announce the passage of distinguished guests through their streets and the special honor may have aroused the boys to some consciousness of importance. But perhaps it didn't because in my observation the well behaved young athletes of Mr. Connie Mack's staff have been champions of the American league so long that they have come to think of themselves almost as last year's champions.

There is no honor that fades so quickly as the honor of winning a major league pennant. The Athletics, therefore, brought less enthusiasm with them than the motorcycle police brought to meet them and they will go into this set of ball games with the easy composure of the Red Sox in a Monday afternoon game with the Senators in Washington along toward the end of September. Whether this will affect their work adversely or well or not at all is something that I would rather not go into having no reliable information on the subject.

TRANQUIL MACK.
Some baseball managers, such as Mr. McGraw of the Giants, place considerable value on eager frisking, yelling and glove-pounding at important times, but Mr. Mack is a tranquil old man who prefers quiet efficiency. Highly agitated athletes have been known to throw to bases before they had quite finished fielding the ball and the nonchalant kind have been known to dawdle too long, so either frame of mind is right only when it wins.

Mr. Mack made up his mind long before the special train arrived in Chicago that he would not trouble his players to go to the Cubs' ball park to acquaint themselves with the acoustics, the shadows or the range of the home run wall, as it was his idea that any major league player who didn't know the general direction of left field and so forth instinctively on any ball grounds couldn't learn

Fair Weather Is Predicted

Chicago, October 7.—(AP)—The weather man, after going into a huddle with his various instruments today, held out promise of generally fair weather with not much change in temperature, for the opening game of the world series tomorrow.

If there is no drop in the temperature, it will be around 69 or 70 degrees at the start of the game, with chilling winds sweeping off Lake Michigan, however, light frosts probably will feel comfortable.

enough in one day to do him any good in a world series. And anyway he thought an afternoon of dashing through the streets behind outriders with those lugubrious siren notes waiting before them all the time, and a quick change into uniforms and out of them and a quick practice would upset their poise and do them no good.

"It would be like hurrying a golf shot," he said, "and anyway, my boys are very bright boys and they can find their way around the park in no time whatever."

MERCENARY EARNIE.
George Earnshaw, the socially prominent young suburbanite from Swarthmore, Pa., had a suspicion that he would be asked to pitch the first game for the Athletics but the responsibility weighed lightly on him if at all. He had thought of bringing his family with him but that was a long time ago, when the Athletics were newly authenticated winners of the pennant, and since then the Earnshaws have come to think more of the railroad fare and incidental expense of the trip

CUBS, MACKMEN BOTH ANXIOUS TO GET AWAY

Umpiring All-Important in Series—Grove May Start Game.

By George Moriarty.

Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.

Chicago, October 7.—It is doubtful if any other world's series contestants were ever more anxious than the Cubs and Athletics to start their battles for supremacy.

The players realize that every possible angle has been exhausted both in verbal and written form, and as a matter of dispelling theory are waiting to hear the clang of the bell. Unbiased dope leads to the belief that no two teams were ever more evenly matched, and the conservative dopsters are in a dilemma that only actual performance will solve.

Considering the fact that the games will be played in two parks of limited space, there is every reason to expect plenty of tall hitting from both teams. However, with most players going to the rubber in the first two games, the great hitsmiths may be temporarily delayed in their business of populating and depopulating the bases.

General opinion also credits Malone and Root as McCarthy's two best pitchers, and Carlson as the third best.

MCGILLICUDDY RUMOR.

There is a rumor that Connie Mack may start Grove in the opening game as a bit of psychology to show his leading southpaw that he maintains the utmost confidence in him. Other Philadelphia supporters believe Connie cannot go wrong whether he starts Earnshaw or Grove. From a purely psychological standpoint, Earnshaw seems to be Mack's best weapon, as he is a right-handed pitcher and would be facing eight right-handed batters in the Cubs' lineup, with First Baseman Grimm as the lone exception.

Almost lost in the hurly-burly of detail and excitement is the fact that three veteran umpires and one rookie will officiate in this vital series. William (Bill) Klem, the old sea-dog of the national league, teamed up with Charlie Moran as his partner, while William (Bill) Dineen and Roy Van Graflan complete the quartet. Van Graflan is making his debut as a world series umpire, and all four are well qualified to handle the most delicate situation that may arise.

Usually, a world's series is just as easy to umpire as a regular season contest. Undoubtedly four umpires are more efficient than the old two-man system for a big series. One umpire at each base insures the least amount of running and leaves a man in a position to be at the proper base and on top of the play.

GROUND RULES.

Ground rules must be thoroughly understood by the umpires, and each park calls for different rules. In the 1925 series between Pittsburgh and Washington, the importance of ground rules came to the surface. It was in that memorable and concluding game of the series Cuyler came to bat with the bases loaded, and drove the ball over first base like a rifle shot. The ball bounded behind the stands beyond first base, and all the runs crossed the plate, making the score 11 to 7.

The four umpires held a consultation and sent Cuyler back to second, and another runner back to third, and another runner back to first, and another runner back to home, and the score ended 9 to 7 when the Senators failed to score in their half of the ninth.

I suppose that no "quick returns" by the pitcher will be allowed in this series. If this is to be included among the special rules, it might be a good plan to let the pitchers of both clubs know about it before the series starts.

Last year the umpires, in the presence of Judge Landis, agreed to bar the "quick return" in justice to the batter who might be off guard. This is good sportsmanship.

Coast Series Starts Today

San Francisco, October 7.—(AP)—Baseball fans fought over again today the final games of one of the closest finishes in Pacific Coast league history while the San Francisco Mission Reds and Hollywood Stars mapped out their strategy for a championship play-off beginning here tomorrow.

Winners respectively of the first and second halves of the split-season, the Reds and Stars, will meet tomorrow in the opening contest of a seven-game series to determine the 1929 pennant. A $5,000 million from the coffers of the league will be split on a 60-40 basis, there in Los Angeles. If a seventh contest is necessary its location will be decided later.

The Stars slid into the second-half leadership by the margin of one game.

SPOTLIGHT Grantland Rice

A Missing Cub Rooter.

Back in the somewhat distant days of 1910, a Chicago baseball writer by the name of Ring W. Lardner, one of the most loyal of all the Cub rooters, came east to see Chance, Evers, Tinker, Brown and others fall before the young and coming Athletics of Connie Mack.

For a matter of nineteen years Mr. Lardner has been waiting to see this series avenged. But now with the big chance ahead, at least an even chance, he and George Kaufman have a showing opening in New York under the name of "June Moon." The New York opening ceremonies take place Wednesday night and after the success the show has known at Atlantic City, Asbury Park, Washington and Newark it is only natural that Mr. Lardner feels that he must forego his chance to watch the Athletics suffer while he gets New York's reactions to a show and a performance that are certain to register the big town's approval.

Joe McCarthy and his Cubs will miss his vocal cheering and the songs he would have written to inspire the team. It was the same Mr. Lardner who sat at the piano and played "Casey Jones" to inspire the old Cubs, but even that stirring melody could not offset the thunder that came from the war clubs of McInnis, Collins, Barry and Baker, nor could it curb the pitching arms of Bender, Coombs and Plank.

It might be suggested that while New York will miss its annual world series it will at least get a good break in being able to sit in on "June Moon."

They're Off at Last.

A championship series that should have been started nearly two weeks ago finally swings under way. It so happens that the strength and tradition of both clubs is something more than enough to keep public interest alive, where under ordinary conditions at this time nobody would care a rap what happened to a baseball club. If this isn't a star series there is nothing in the dope.

An observation of this sort usually heads straight into a flop, but perhaps this will cut away from the old rule. This is one series where your guess is as good as any one's, young or old, male or female.

CONNIE MACK IS CONFIDENT OF HIS 'BOYS'

Veteran Manager Discusses Everything But Starting Pitcher.

By William J. Chipman.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Chicago, October 7.—(AP)

Standing once more in the promised land awaiting the fight for world series gold, Cornelius McGillicuddy drew up his invading force at the outposts of Wrigley field tonight. Confident in himself and his "boys," he declined to even reconnoiter the scene of battle under a truce offered by Joseph V. McCarthy, minute man of the Cubs.

In his suite at the Edgewater Beach hotel, hard by the site where the first game will be decided tomorrow, Connie Mack was willing to discuss anything but his starting pitcher. Volunteers rushed forward with a unanimous vote for George Earnshaw.

Jackets Begin Earnest Preparation for Invasion of Tarheels

ALEX TREATS TEAM TO LONG SIGNAL DRILL

ersatility Added to Attack—Mentors Seem Satisfied With Line Play.

By Herb Clark.

Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets, realizing full well the enormity of the task which they will be called upon to tackle Friday afternoon, went to work in dead earnest Monday afternoon.

Friday will be a day of trial for the Jackets. The Tarheels of the University of North Carolina, at present but a bad dream, are due to materialize for battle with the Jackets. The Tarheels will be a fast, powerful and versatile team. That much is to be taken for granted after knowing that they wrecked havoc on Wake Forest and Maryland on two successive Saturdays.

Cochs Bill Alexander started out Monday to add versatility to the attack which the Jackets demonstrated in the game with the Aggies at the Platts Saturday. A long signal drill was the order for the entire squad and later Alex took his backs to one side to drill them in plays new to the Tech repertoire. They should add much to the drive if they can be properly learned in the few days left.

LINE OKAY.

That the Tech mentors were not too dissatisfied with the showing of their line in the Aggie fray was indicated when the same forward wall that took the field at the opening of the second half Saturday was re-assembled for the session Monday. Only one change has any strong possibility of being made before the affair Friday. The showing of Fincher and Milliam, against the Mississippi outfit brought go to the heart of Bill Fincher, and it is not improbable that this pair will go out to battle the Tarheels.

Cochs Alex concluded Monday's workout with a long scrimmage on punting, with the "A" and "B" teams opposing each other. Dunlap and Mizell alternated at booting for the varsity, while Graydon was doing the kicking for the "B" squad. All three were getting off nice punts in the drill, with Dunlap apparently having a slight edge.

This drill also proved to be a lesson in tactics for the safety men, Thomson and Graydon. The "when and where" of the safety play, as expounded at great length, and procedure following this type of play was outlined. Several placement goals were tried from short distances.

TARHEEL PLAYS. While the varsity was getting this lesson, Fipps Martin had his squad of Grey Devils at the lower end of the field for a lesson on the North Carolina plays.

They are expected to face the varsity squads in scrimmage this afternoon and tomorrow, using these maneuvers.

Fresh Get Scrimmage.

With his opening game still two weeks distant, Coach Kid Clay sent his freshman squad through a long scrimmage against the Jacket reserves on the Rose Bowl field.

The yearlings are fast shaping into a powerful squad. They have plenty of weight and power in the line and a stable of heavy backs.

In Monday's session the first-year men tromped soundly on the varsity eleven. Tom Chin, plunging the line, and Mac McArthur circling ends and flapping passes, were the shining lights for the yearlings, while "Dutch" Faust showed best for the gold-shirted crew.

The freshman schedule follows:

October 18—Monroe A. and M. at Grant field.
October 26—Furman freshmen at Grant field.
November 11—Auburn freshmen at Auburn.

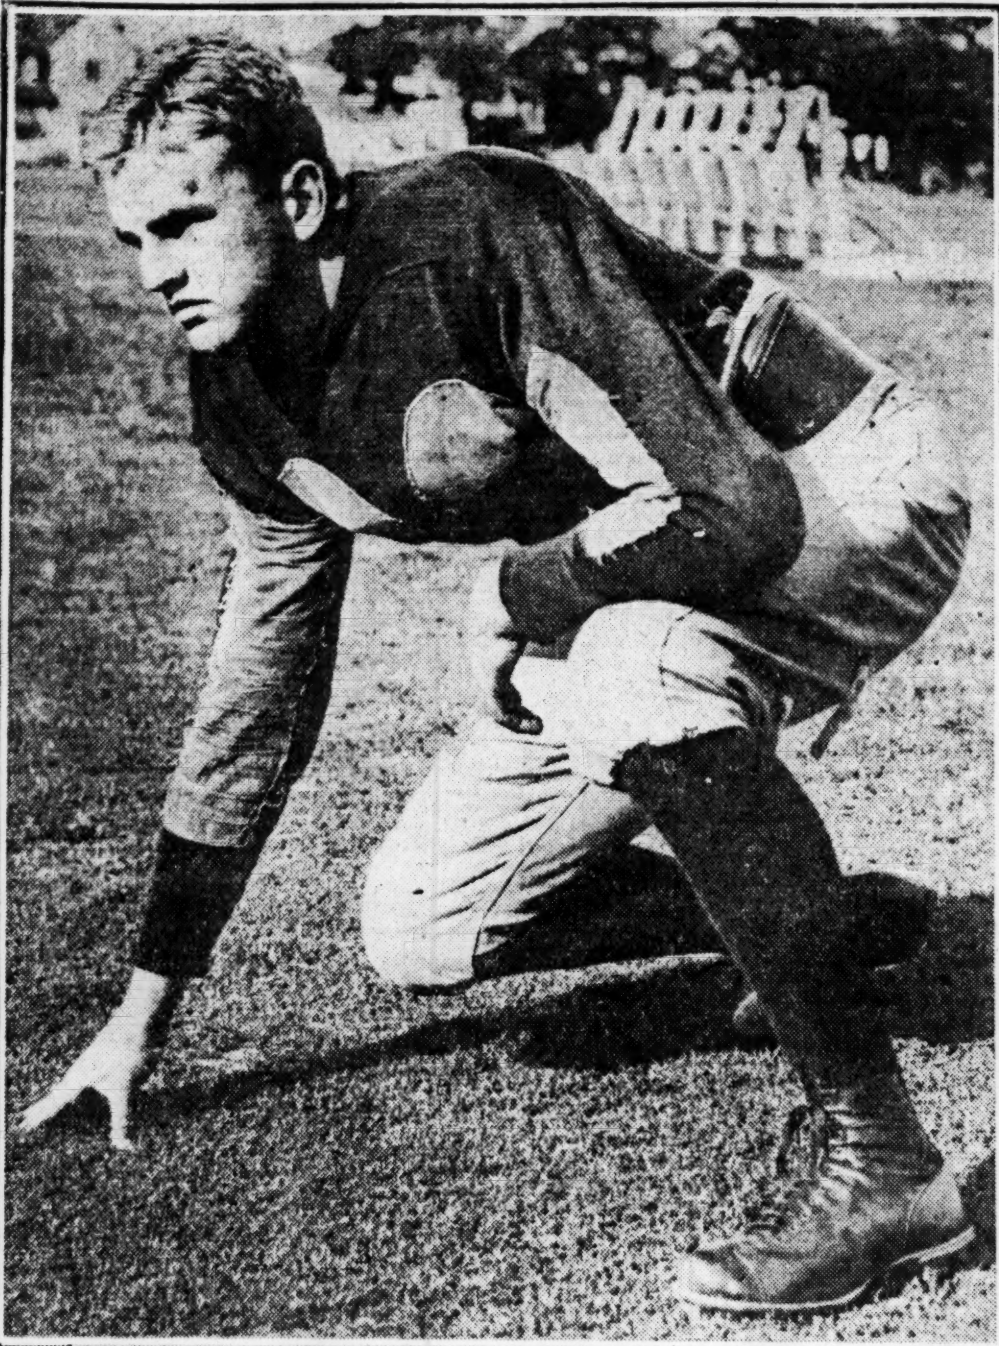

November 23—University of South Carolina freshmen at Grant field.
November 30—University of Georgia freshmen at Grant field.

Harness Races Are Postponed

A wet and slippery track caused the postponement of the harness races Monday afternoon, but two events have been added to the harness races for today and instead of the usual three there will be five, starting promptly at 1:30 o'clock.

The feature race of Monday's program will be run today and that is the 2:14 stake race trot, which is worth $10,000 and has fine horses entered. An added entry was put on in Bobby Axworthy. This horse was already entered, but did not get in town by the time the entries were declared as left out, but when the race was postponed he came in. In this race Ortolan Watts has been established as favorite. Volstead for second choice and Crescent Limited is picked as third.

One of Yale's Big Ends

J. E. Edwards, one of Yale's big ends, will be seen in action at Athens, Ga., on Saturday when Yale and Georgia meet in their annual contest. Edwards, a veteran, is one of the best ends on the squad and is expected to have a good year.

TARHEELS DRIVE FOR TECH TILT

Coches Pleased With Maryland Showing; New Plays Devised.

Chapel Hill, N. C., October 7.—Looking little the worse for wear as the result of their 43-0 win from Maryland last Saturday, the Tarheels of the University of North Carolina began work this afternoon on the plan of offense and defense they will use against the national champions of Georgia Tech in Athens Friday.

Tarheel supporters look to the Tech game as their hardest test of the season, and it is an open secret that Coach Mack is planning to use a new plan of strategy to be used against Tech. They are expected to open up a bag of trick plays that have not been used this season.

COACHES PLEASED. The Carolina Coaches—Messrs. Collins, Cerny and Frazier—are much pleased with the way the Tarheels won over Maryland, but they have already warned the boys not to over-confident about their chances in the Tech game.

Hundreds of Carolina students and other supporters are planning to go to Atlanta for the Tech game and to Athens the next day for the Georgia-Yale game. Most of them will go aboard the special trains leaving Thursday night, although a number will motor through.

With the reserves scrimmaging the freshmen the varsity was content with a light workout today.

The first squad worked principally on passing and punting drills and on pass defense.

HOUSE OUT. An injury was kept from keeping the plugging Henry House from practice, but the veteran fullback looked much improved and could trot around the field.

The rest of the squad appeared to be in good shape and plenty peppy. The reserve team, pushing two touchdowns over, the freshman outfit, included McConnell and Morris, ends; Cowper and Rose, tackles; Dunavant and Rosenfeld, guards; Alexander, center; Moore, quarter; Houston and Redfern, halves, and McCalister, fullback.

Yale-Georgia Tilt Tops Week's Card

Elis To Bring Powerful Eleven to Athens. Georgia Expected To Put Up Fine Game.

By George Kirksey, United News Staff Correspondent.
New York, October 7.—Intersectional games top this week's eastern football schedule.

Outstanding of the six intersectional games involving eastern eleven are the Yale-Georgia game at Athens and the Navy-Notre Dame game at Baltimore.

Other intersectional games for eastern teams are the Syracuse-Nebraska clash at Syracuse, the Pennsylvania-V. P. I. contest at Philadelphia, the Colgate-Michigan State encounter at Hamilton, N. Y., and the Army-Davidson (North Carolina) game at West Point.

Yale will carry a powerful eleven below the Mason and Dixon line for the first long trip in history. Yale's last trip was to the edge of Dixie in 1901 when Eli Edsall beat Navy at Annapolis, 11 to 0.

Georgia has a young team which is taking form. It promises to be 100 per cent better for Yale than it was in the opening game.

CLOSE CALL. Navy's close call against William and Mary (score, 15-0) is misleading. The Midshipmen are taking pains this year to prevent any such thing as took place last year, when they lost their first two games of the season. Coach Bill Ingram is building a real football machine, slowly but surely.

There's a question of whether Navy will be prepared for Notre Dame this week. Notre Dame won last year, 7 to 0. The margin of victory for either team this season should be about the same.

Colgate demonstrated potential power in holding Wisconsin to a one-touchdown victory at Madison last week, and should even its intersectional score against Michigan State, beaten last week by Michigan, 17 to 0.

132 POINTS. Syracuse had rolled up 132 points in its first two games, while Nebraska was held to a scoreless tie by S. M. U. last week. It was expected, however, that Nebraska, under its new coach, Dana X. Bible, would do better.

Dick Gentle, flashy Penn halfback, probably will play against V. P. I., which should make a big difference in Penn's thus far record, which now stands at 11-1-1.

Other important eastern games include Princeton-Brown, at Princeton; Pittsburgh-West Virginia, at Pittsburgh; Fordham-N. Y. U., at New York; and Boston college-Villanova, at Boston.

Florida Works For Tiger Tilt. Gainesville, Fla., October 7.—(AP)—The Florida Alligators, who were showing at Tampa Saturday in barely winning from V. M. I., 12 to 7, silenced much of the optimism of Florida supporters, opened preparations today for their night game at Auburn Friday, with a customary light workout.

Artificial lights which were to have been installed last week will not appear on Fleming field this fall, so Coach Bachman will put his charges through another daylight session tomorrow and leave Wednesday morning. The game will be the first night football encounter within the Southern conference.

The Alligators practiced today without the services of Dale Van Sickle, whose father died this morning. Frank Clark, star center, is still on crutches and may be lost all season. Many bruises and minor injuries among the players were reported.

Charles Edgar Jones, former captain and All-Southern quarterback, will work with the squad for the next two weeks, assisting the coaching staff.

GEORGIA TAKES HARD WORKOUT FOR YALE TILT

Bulldogs in Good Shape Following Victory Over Furman Crew.

Athens, Ga., October 7.—The University of Georgia Bulldogs went through three hours of hard work here this afternoon in preparation for the game with the Yale Bulldogs next Saturday. The practice was without a scrimmage, but the Georgia coaches had their men punting, passing, and going through a long period of signal drill.

The Georgia team is in good condition after its 27-0 victory over Furman, and every man on the squad with the exception of Red Smith, is expected to be ready for the dedication game, which is just five days off.

The red-haired Bulldog flankman was on the field this afternoon taking exercise, but will not be able to scrimmage for more than a week, according to Dr. H. L. Reynolds, University of Georgia physician.

In Vernon Smith, Coach Thomas has discovered a real punter. In the Oglethorpe game Georgia was rather weak in booting the ball back out of the danger zone, but Saturday Smith was called back to do the punting and averaged 43 yards on a muddy field and with a slippery ball.

Georgia flankman is also an excellent pass receiver and gives promise of being one of the best ends that Georgia has had since the days of Nash and Shiver.

Cochs Mehre took charge of the tackles this afternoon and sent them through a practice of breaking through the opposing line and smearing backfield plays. While the Georgia head mentor was working his tackles against the freshmen, Coach Frank Thomas had two varsity backfield combinations perfecting a defense against the Yale aerial attack.

The Georgia coaches are working hard in an effort to build up a defense against the powerful Yale scoring machine. Coach H. J. Stegeman was at the Yale-Vermont game last Saturday, and is building up a team composed of freshman and Red Devils which will use the Yale system of play against the varsity.

Scrimmages will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and probably Thursday against the Red Devils and freshmen.

NIGHT GAME. Oglethorpe Friday night will get its first taste of the floodlights when Loyola of New Orleans is played there at night. The Loyola team is strong, as usual, and Oglethorpe has a problem of large proportions to face.

It is thought in the best Peachtree road circles that the Petrels will rebound from their defeat and emerge with a victory.

In other significant games of the S. I. A. A. over the week-end Howard and Millsaps battled to a 0-0 tie at Birmingham with Howard in imminent danger of scoring on two occasions; Erskine got the jump on High Point, held its advantage and won, 20-0; South Georgia A. & M. upset Southern college, 6-0; Davidson, member of nothing, intercepted a pass and defeated Wofford, 7-0; Union surprised everyone with a 21-13 victory over Bethel and Mississippi college, with a young man named Pup Lee doing such things as racing 55 yards to the goal, disposed of the Delta State Teachers, 20-0.

It looks like an interesting year in the association and the championship race is worth watching.

Chalk Talk. West Point, October 7.—Coach Biff Jones, of the Army, opened practice today with a long blackboard talk in which defects in Cadet play against Gettysburg Saturday were emphasized.

In the practice which followed defense of forward passes was stressed. Carver, who has been switched from quarter to half, got off some fine passes.

Builds Stadium. The city of Charlotte, N. C., will build a large municipal stadium in the hope of getting several of the larger Carolina schools to play one game each every year.

Three Track Stars. There are three track stars on the Colgate squad and all are backfield men. They are Stellwerck, Hart and Duiguld.

S.I. A. A. Teams Settle To Race for Title. Eight Games Booked Involving Member Elevens on Both Sides; Competition is Interesting.

By Ben Cothran.
Football teams of the S. I. A. A. get down to the serious business this week-end of doing something about a championship which will be permanently decided later in the fall.

Eight games are on the books between members of this flung organization and each of them holds promise of being exciting, interesting and perhaps surprising.

Presbyterian, which upset Mercer last week on a 67-yard touchdown, galloped by Oren Dunlap to score the sufficient six points for victory, will engage the tricky Furman Hurricane. Furman was completely crushed last Saturday by the Vaughn peril in Athens, but is as yet undefeated in its own association, holding an opening-day victory over Chattanooga's Moccasins, who will be playing Alabama.

Spring Hill, which crushed Birmingham-Southern last Saturday, lays hands on Northwestern Louisiana and probably will win. Spring Hill's advantage over Southern was 15-6 and, considering that the latter held Auburn to a 6-0 victory, seems significant.

This same Southern outfit will take on Mercer at Birmingham. The game has little championship aspect as both have been defeated, but it has aspects of a battle. Mercer is smarting from its defeat by tiny Presbyterian and will probably be dangerous in the days of Bo McMillin and his boy friends. The talk is occasioned by the fact that last Saturday the Colonels smothered Kentucky Wesleyan in a fair eleven—in rather convincing fashion, 39 to 0. Centre has a pair of backs who run fast, wisely and well. A young man named Nenecek backs up the line in prize-winning fashion while a couple of linemen, Arnicar and Ruffin, perform well in the forward wall. So keep your eye on the Colonels.

The defeat of the Petrels at Charleston Saturday had a bit to do with the race. The Birds, since Cy Bell flung his heels in the collective faces of Georgia's Bulldogs, were expected to go places and may still. But Citadel halted them temporarily and gained much momentum of its own by an 18-0 victory. Citadel takes on V. M. I. next Saturday.

Oglethorpe Friday night will get its first taste of the floodlights when Loyola of New Orleans is played there at night. The Loyola team is strong, as usual, and Oglethorpe has a problem of large proportions to face.

It is thought in the best Peachtree road circles that the Petrels will rebound from their defeat and emerge with a victory.

In other significant games of the S. I. A. A. over the week-end Howard and Millsaps battled to a 0-0 tie at Birmingham with Howard in imminent danger of scoring on two occasions; Erskine got the jump on High Point, held its advantage and won, 20-0; South Georgia A. & M. upset Southern college, 6-0; Davidson, member of nothing, intercepted a pass and defeated Wofford, 7-0; Union surprised everyone with a 21-13 victory over Bethel and Mississippi college, with a young man named Pup Lee doing such things as racing 55 yards to the goal, disposed of the Delta State Teachers, 20-0.

It looks like an interesting year in the association and the championship race is worth watching.

Chalk Talk. West Point, October 7.—Coach Biff Jones, of the Army, opened practice today with a long blackboard talk in which defects in Cadet play against Gettysburg Saturday were emphasized.

In the practice which followed defense of forward passes was stressed. Carver, who has been switched from quarter to half, got off some fine passes.

Builds Stadium. The city of Charlotte, N. C., will build a large municipal stadium in the hope of getting several of the larger Carolina schools to play one game each every year.

Three Track Stars. There are three track stars on the Colgate squad and all are backfield men. They are Stellwerck, Hart and Duiguld.

S.I. A. A. Teams Settle To Race for Title. Eight Games Booked Involving Member Elevens on Both Sides; Competition is Interesting.

By Ben Cothran.
Football teams of the S. I. A. A. get down to the serious business this week-end of doing something about a championship which will be permanently decided later in the fall.

Eight games are on the books between members of this flung organization and each of them holds promise of being exciting, interesting and perhaps surprising.

Presbyterian, which upset Mercer last week on a 67-yard touchdown, galloped by Oren Dunlap to score the sufficient six points for victory, will engage the tricky Furman Hurricane. Furman was completely crushed last Saturday by the Vaughn peril in Athens, but is as yet undefeated in its own association, holding an opening-day victory over Chattanooga's Moccasins, who will be playing Alabama.

Spring Hill, which crushed Birmingham-Southern last Saturday, lays hands on Northwestern Louisiana and probably will win. Spring Hill's advantage over Southern was 15-6 and, considering that the latter held Auburn to a 6-0 victory, seems significant.

This same Southern outfit will take on Mercer at Birmingham. The game has little championship aspect as both have been defeated, but it has aspects of a battle. Mercer is smarting from its defeat by tiny Presbyterian and will probably be dangerous in the days of Bo McMillin and his boy friends. The talk is occasioned by the fact that last Saturday the Colonels smothered Kentucky Wesleyan in a fair eleven—in rather convincing fashion, 39 to 0. Centre has a pair of backs who run fast, wisely and well. A young man named Nenecek backs up the line in prize-winning fashion while a couple of linemen, Arnicar and Ruffin, perform well in the forward wall. So keep your eye on the Colonels.

The defeat of the Petrels at Charleston Saturday had a bit to do with the race. The Birds, since Cy Bell flung his heels in the collective faces of Georgia's Bulldogs, were expected to go places and may still. But Citadel halted them temporarily and gained much momentum of its own by an 18-0 victory. Citadel takes on V. M. I. next Saturday.

YALE STARTS TOUGH WORK FOR BULLDOG

Coach Stevens Puts Varsity Against Scrubs in 25-Minute Scrimmage.

New Haven, Conn., October 7.—Yale settled down to intensive work this afternoon in preparation for the Georgia game Saturday. The usual Monday program was changed, Coach Stevens ordering a 25-minute scrimmage against the scrubs, following a long dummy scrimmage in which most of the regulars took part.

The team which went through the supervised scrimmage was pitted against the Grays and scored three touchdowns. Snead getting two and Miller one. Wilson kicked one drop for the extra point, the other two not being tried.

Dunn, first-string back, was out of the scrimmage at the start because of his late arrival at the field and his place was taken by Taylor. Barnes, a sophomore, was in Walker's place at right end as Walker was still suffering from a slight injury. Walker was in uniform and probably will get in the scrimmage tomorrow and Wednesday, which will be the last before the team leaves for the south.

SCRIMMAGING TEAM. The ends in the supervised scrimmage and at the start of the regular scrimmage were Hiskok and Barnes. The tackles were Martin and Vincent, and the guards Greene and Loezer. Palmer was at center and the backfield consisted of Wilson, Snead and Miller, halfbacks, and Taylor, fullback. This team tried a variety of plays against the scrubs and the best ball-carrying was done by Snead. A few forward and lateral passes were tried with fair success.

The varsity had little trouble in working the ball down the field, but just before the third touchdown, Miller fumbled on the 1-yard line, the scrubs getting the ball. They kicked to the 20-yard line and in three plays the varsity scored again, Miller plunging through the center of the line.

The scrubs could do little against the varsity line, but made one first down on straight football, which brought a cheer from the sidelines.

After 25 minutes of play Booth and Dunn, were sent into the backfield, taking the places of Snead and Taylor and later practically the entire varsity line and backfield were relieved. Among the players going in were Ladd, Bob Hall, A. S. Hall, Cruikshank, McEwen, Goldman, Lincoln and others.

The team, 35 players strong, leaves on the special Yale train Thursday at 2:30 and will arrive in Athens at 3 o'clock Friday, having a workout in the new Sanford stadium Friday afternoon.

Service Game Is Negotiated. Washington, October 7.—(United News.)—Plans for a possible post-season Army-Navy football game were abandoned today, Secretary of War Good announced.

Negotiations are being continued between the war department and Secretary of Navy Adams, however, in the hope of a resumption of athletics in 1930 or 1931, Good said.

He indicated that superintendents of both academies would be invited to join the negotiations. Army's game with Stanford university, late in December, made plans for a post-season game this year impractical.

Another Opportunity. Billy Southworth will have opportunity to win his third pennant in a row at Rochester, he has been signed for another year.

COUNCIL APPROVES LOAN FOR SCHOOLS

Members Agree to Appropriation of $125,000 To Pay Salaries.

Atlanta school department employees will be paid January 1 for their services to the city during the last half of December, if the plan adopted Monday by city council is carried out.

Council Monday unanimously approved on record as approving appropriation of $125,000 additional to pay the salaries of the 1,400 employees by borrowing the money the first of the year.

Under the plan, the school department will be called to sanction it.

Action Monday was only a moral obligation, indicating that those who voted for the plan Monday would vote again for it when it is sounded at the special session which Mayor L. N. Ragsdale will be asked to call.

Mr. Moore warned council that it would have to make preparations and reconvene itself to allocation of at least another $125,000 more next year to the school department than it did this year, if the schools are to be conducted on the same basis next year as they were this year.

"If we make this allocation, it will mean that we cannot take it out of the 1930 appropriation for schools," Mr. Moore said. "It very probably means that we will have to give the school department $125,000 more next year than we did in 1929 to keep the schools running on the same standard. Council should understand the situation."

A fund of $275 was transferred from the budget lighting system to establish bracket street lamps at Alabama and Whitehall streets, and a notice that the city of Atlanta is infringing on patents of a signal lighting firm in operating the system.

The traffic light system was referred to City Attorney James L. Mayson for recommendation.

Under a recent ruling of the United States supreme court, another firm has been adjudicated owner of certain patents used in lights here which were sold by another concern.

NEGRO LIQUOR RUNNER SLAIN IN GUN BATTLE

Danville, Ky., October 7. (AP)—A gang of negro liquor runners, alleged to have been engaged in the sale of whisky in a big way in the wealthy Blue Grass section, engaged in a gun battle with three enforcement officers on a highway 15 miles from here early today.

One of the negroes was killed, two were wounded and a fourth, identified by the officers as the leader of the gang, escaped.

The officers, led by E. B. Henson, a federal agent, had picked a small automobile in which the negroes were blocking the load of liquor they had been told would be carried to Danville. Coming at a high rate of speed in a big car, the negroes crashed into the officers' machine, Henson said they then opened fire on the blocking car and also fired at the agents, who were standing beside the road.

Henson and his companions, J. M. Boswell, a constable, and Hugh Turner, an "undecorated man" returned the fire, until there was no more shooting from the big car. In the confusion, Henson said he found one negro dead and another, William Wilson, shot through the arm. Later in the day a third negro, William Robertson, was arrested at Lebanon, Ky., and accused of being a member of the party. He had been wounded through the neck. The negro who escaped was identified by the officers as Nick Best, who was said to have lost four other liquor-laden automobiles without being arrested.

The dead negro was identified erroneously as Woodson Diehl, of Danville. Later in the day officers learned that this identification was wrong. They were unable to establish the true identity.

Thirty-five gallons of whisky were found in the seized car and was destroyed.

Another Bright Day Predicted By Weatherman

Another day of bright sunshine and refreshing temperatures is promised Atlantans today in the forecast by E. F. von Herrmann, meteorologist of the United States weather bureau.

Today will be slightly cooler than Monday, the weatherman predicted, but no significant change in temperature is expected. Fine, clear autumnal weather is scheduled with the mercury due to range between 59 and 72 degrees. Mr. von Herrmann said.

On Monday the maximum temperature recorded at the local weather bureau was 78 and the minimum at that point of the day saw the thermometer register 61 degrees.

MITTEN PROPERTY TO BRING CAPITAL AND LABOR CLOSER

Philadelphia, October 7. (AP)—The bulk of the estate of Thomas F. Mitten, a Philadelphia traction magnate, found drowned at his mountain estate last Tuesday, will be used to further the cause of friendly relations between capital and labor.

The value of Mr. Mitten's personal property is estimated at $2,000,000 and the real estate at $800,000 and upwards. There have been estimates that the total estate may be worth as high as $10,000,000.

Mr. Mitten's will was filed for probate today. It was signed on September 25, six days before Mr. Mitten's body was taken from Big Lost Tavern lake near Milford, Pa.

The provision of the will leaving the bulk of the estate for the advancement of the cause of co-operation between capital and labor and the furtherance and continuance of the Mitten plan, was found to be invalid because no charitable bequest can be effective under Pennsylvania law if made within 30 days of the testator's death.

However, Dr. Arthur A. Mitten, only son of Mr. Mitten, who becomes heir to the estate by reason of the invalid provision, announced that his father's wishes would be carried out by him and that he would erect "The Mitten foundation" for that purpose.

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN No. 44

Jane knew that even if she were compelled to kill Rokoff, she would be no better off. The shot would bring his men and her fate would be even worse. The memory of the two brothers who stood and laughed as Rokoff struck her was still vivid. Suddenly the Russian lunged toward her, but she was quicker. Swinging the heavy revolver high above his evil face, she dealt him a terrific blow between the eyes.
